Subscriptions, changes of address, advertising, and inquiries concerning business matters should be sent to Executive Office, Theta Chi Fraternity, 17 West Washington St., Athens, Ohio, or Coal Exchange Building, Huntington, West Virginia.

Theta Chi's Three-fold Invitation

STATE OF VERMONT

March 24, 1931.

Dear President Ladue:

Mr. Leon S. Gay of Cavendish has just informed me that the Theta Chi Fraternity will hold its annual national convention and celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary at Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont, next August. I am greatly pleased to learn this fact. While I am a graduate of another college and am not a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity, I am greatly interested in Norwich University.

As Governor, I am glad to be able to express to you the certainty of a warm welcome to you and your fraternity brothers. I am sure that Norwich University and the people of the state will be glad to co-operate to make your pilgrimage to the institution where your fraternity started, one that will be memorable. I shall be pleased to have opportunity to co-operate if I can be of service.

Yours very truly,

STANLEY C. WILSON, Governor.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY

Dear Brothers in Theta Chi:

The first word of those to whom is given the privilege and the honor to serve as hosts during the coming convention must be of delight at your coming. For a number of years we of Alpha have anticipated this event, and now, with the cry "On to Norwich" echoing from coast to coast as Theta Chi men plan to attend the convention, we look forward with a great deal of pleasure to the consummation of our anticipations.

Entertainment will be available for days before the convention, so if you care to come early — come ahead. You'll have all the facilities for a splendid time. In addition, throughout the entire convention, deeper chords will be struck by the tradition hallowed atmosphere which characterizes the University, the cradle of our fraternity.

So to all Theta Chi men who plan to attend the convention, and to all who have not yet decided to, I extend the cordial invitation of the actives of Alpha to come to Norwich this fall and join with us in the most magnificent gathering of Theta Chis since the founding of our fraternity.

Fraternally yours,

GEORGE C. VITHEER, President of Alpha.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE

To all Theta Chi Brothers:

When you assemble, this coming August, for the biggest and best convention of them all, you will want to visit the site of historic old Norwich University across the river from Dartmouth College. There will be pleasant afternoons and evenings to be spent in this vicinity, and if a group of willing brothers can do anything for you, you'll meet them at Alpha Theta Chapter, ready to make your stay in the East a very happy one.

Don't be afraid that you will be inconveniencing us in any way, because we're here for you, and anything which we can do for you, or to help our brothers from Alpha Chapter, will be a pleasure. Everyone is invited to have lunch with us and to spend the night here on the campus in rooms which we will provide. We're looking forward to seeing all of you, and we'll be greatly pleased to act as your hosts for whatever time you may want us.

Pre-convention, Convention, and Post-convention Features

Open house for convention visitors at some of the New England and New York chapter houses. Convention fee of $25 includes all meals, room, and pilgrimage expenses. Convention souvenirs will be characteristic of the anniversary event. There will be a special convention number of the Claremont Bugle, which was at one time edited by Arthur Chase. Group singing will be led by Theodore Fitch, Alpha Zeta, '22, director of the University of Rochester Glee Club. Unusually low excursion rates to Montreal, Canada, a four-hour train trip, for convention visitors have been secured. Other sight-seeing excursions will be enjoyed.

Vacation Lure, Including a Trip to Montreal, Adds Appeal to Theta Chi's Historic Convention

SUMMER will soon be with us. In a very few months we'll be packing our bags, scanning timetables, poring over road maps, critically inspecting the honorable family vehicle. Excitement is in the air. Vacation!

To hundreds of Theta Chis from coast to coast vacation time has been all settled by now — the last two weeks in August. For hundreds of Theta Chis, vacation land has been selected — New England, of course.

"Oh to be in New England, now that vacation's here," is the way the poet should have rhymed it, for surely there is no finer vacation land in America.

Do you seek the picturesque? New England with its colonial atmosphere, its village commons, its quaint inns, and its many hamlets that seem to hark back three centuries, will enthral you.

Do you seek landmarks of early American history? New England with its Bunker Hill, Old North Church, Paul Revere's home, Lexington, Concord, Salem, Plymouth Rock, and quaint burying grounds with almost every stone a prominent name in history, will thrill you as you live again those stirring scenes in the old history book.

Do you seek the "stern and rockbound" Atlantic Coast with huge breakers pounding, pounding, pounding, or a majestic swell rolling in, never-ending? Or the quaint quays at New Bedford from whence those hardy mariners sailed for the seven seas in quest of whales? Or lovely old Marblehead with its crooked streets and harbor of sailing boats? Or stern yet fascinating Gloucester from whence men still go down to the sea in ships to bring back their catches from the fishing banks? All this and more, along hundreds of miles of picturesque sea coast, New England offers you.

Have you ever had a hankering to visit that famous old hook of land extending for two hundred miles out into the Atlantic Ocean — Cape Cod? The Cape is worth an entire vacation in itself, thousands journeying there annually to revel in its quaint, fascinating loveliness.

Do you seek the majestic peace and bracing recreation of mountain lands? New England offers you the Berkshires, one of the most enchanting of the nation's mountain ranges and occupying most of western Massachusetts. A noted traveler has said, "I have seen no lovelier country in my travels than Massachusetts' beautiful, rolling Berkshires."

Spend a few days in the Berkshires — you'll want to spend more time, but there are other ranges hardly a day's journey away that you just must see. Incidentally one of the delightful features of New England is its comparatively small area which enables you to travel from range to range, from state to state, from the western mountain extremes to the Atlantic coast, through a kaleidoscopic change of scenery and customs — all within the time space of a few hours.

The Big Maine Woods with its granite mountains, myriads of lakes, and wild grandeur annually attracts thousands of vacationers from all parts of the nation. So fascinating is a vacation in Maine that hundreds of people go back year after year, seeming never to tire of this summer paradise in the most northerly tip of New England. Fishermen especially seek out Maine. There the fishing cannot be approached by any other section in the eastern half of the United States. There go devotees of Izaak Walton yearly, lured by huge landlocked salmon, and by trout, bass, etc.

Then there are the White Mountains of New Hampshire. As a good vacationist, priding yourself on "Seeing America First," you just must see the White Mountains. Their crowning glory, Mount Washington, the highest peak east of the Rockies, leaves a never-to-be-forgotten impression on all who have fallen under their spell.

And plainly discernible from the White Mountains of New Hampshire are the Green Mountains of Vermont. In a few hours you are reveling in mountain air redolent of pine, spruce, hemlock, and balsam that cover those beautiful granite hills encircling Northfield, the home of Norwich University and old Alpha — hosts to the greatest convention in Theta Chi history, the pilgrimage to the birthplace of Theta Chi, the convention that can't be missed.

Three Memorable Days

And now comes the climax of our New England vacation — three glorious days at the convention. — There won't be another so history-making, so inspiring, so fraught with fraternal spirit, in our generation.

Who are those hardy mountaineers disappearing on horseback through the white birches that cover the hills around Northfield? Those are some of the delegates who arrived early on this eventful morning of August 27 and, having already registered, are off on the intriguing trails.

"What? Can we go riding?"

"You bet, horses for all."

"Let's pick out a gentle creature and go exploring."

All day the brothers arrive—singly, with their wives, with their families. What a record-breaking crowd. The kind of attendance this "convention of a generation" surely deserved.

Nightfall — and the convention is on in earnest with big fraternal dinners in progress all over the campus. Then comes the "get-acquainted" smoker. Pale blue wreaths of smoke curl upward from hundreds of pipes, cigarettes, and cigars. The "old guard" of Theta Chi are addressing us. Then comes a series of tableaux depicting the history of old Theta Chi and enacted by many of the old timers largely responsible for that history.

The smoker is over, and many of the old timers linger to talk over the good old days, but youth is slicking the hair, critically eyeing the crease in the best "trou," smoothing up for the big dance.

Even a Cabaret Dance

What's this? A cabaret? Yes, cabaret style with tables set up so that those who do not care to dance or those who wish to rest between dances can sit out, sup, chat, enjoy the music, and approvingly appraise the dates that the Alpha brothers mustered from the many distinguished girls' camps and summer schools in Vermont.

Friday will be devoted entirely to the business sessions of the fraternity, although there will be innumerable activities to occupy those who do not attend the sessions in full — golf, tennis, swimming, horseback riding, and other recreation.

Friday evening — the business sessions are concluded, and the entire convention adjourns, after a rousing dinner, to a spectacular military program being put on by the Alpha alumni, who are in charge of the evening's program.

"Toot! Toot!" Saturday morning, promptly at nine, the excursion train is puffing, and the whole blamed convention piles in. On we roll through the Vermont hills to White River Junction on the Connecticut River. Here we disembark and pile into buses which carry us in to quaint old Norwich, Vermont, original home of Norwich University and birthplace of Theta Chi.

The base of the monument which will forever commemorate the birthplace of our fraternity is already in place. Close by is a copper chest. Into this chest will be placed the names of all those who have contributed, during the summer, a dollar bill to make this monument possible. Into the chest will also be placed a fraternity history, roster, convention program, convention picture, and other items of national interest. Each active-chapter delegate will also put into the chest some small token characteristic of his chapter.

Each Delegate a Mason

The chest will be sealed, placed in the base of the monument, and sealed therein by each delegate who will pass before it and place his bit of mortar with a specially furnished trowel, which will be engraved with the name of the bearer to commemorate his part in this history-making ceremony. The top of the monument will then be rolled into place and unveiled.

"I was pledged to Theta Chi, I wore the crossed swords and serpent of Theta Chi, I thought I was a loyal Theta Chi, but it took this ceremony to impress upon me indelibly the spirit that is Theta Chi. I wouldn't have missed this for any other event in my fraternal life." That will be the thought in the minds of those who participate.

Back to White River Junction, we cross the Connecticut River and soon are in Hanover, New Hampshire, where is visited the charming campus of Old Dartmouth under the guidance of one of its loyal sons, Tracy Higgins, Alpha Theta.

From there the excursion train conveys the crowd to the thriving city of Claremont — all astir in holiday dress to welcome a great fraternity that is come from all corners of the nation to pay honor to two sons of Claremont, Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase.

At the grave of Arthur Chase in Claremont will be unveiled a tablet with a simple little ceremony. Simultaneously, a smaller group will unveil a similar tablet at the grave of Freeman at Plainfield, New Hampshire.

Clambake a Novelty

Then a huge clambake and New England barbecue at Moody Park. Did you ever attend one? You're in for a never-to-be-forgotten treat. You'll hate to leave Claremont — you'll long remember that warm New England hospitality — but we must pile into that jolly excursion train and head northwest to Northfield — arriving just in time to get ready for the climatic convention banquet.

You will never forget that banquet, all you makers of Theta Chi history whose privilege it will be to attend. One of the highlights will be the unveiling of beautiful oil portraits of both Freeman and Chase — the gracious gifts of the father of Paul King, Jr., Delta, '32. And as you listen to those powerful, inspiring speakers, sing "It Is to Thee, Dear Old Theta Chi," and sit quietly through the hush that accompanies taps, you will say simply, probably too choked with emotion to say more, "I'm glad I came."

The convention is over, but what are the events that greet you Sunday morning? Everything to your taste. Do you desire to run up to Burlington and enjoy a boat ride on majestic Lake Champlain? It can be arranged. Would you like to visit some of those exquisite spots in the White

"Have you heard of the wonderful one-hoss shay?" The original reposes intact in museum of picturesque Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

Mountains you may have missed? Yonder they lie; it can be arranged. Do you want to spend this glorious Sunday on Rye Beach or Old Orchard Beach on the Atlantic? These famous watering places are but a few hours eastward. It can be arranged.

Going to Montreal?

But, stay, those of you who have always wanted to see Canada. The Central Vermont will provide special excursion rates to Montreal.

"To Montreal?"

"Yes, it's only a four-hour run. Let's go!"

Soon we're in Canada. Mile after mile of the flattest land to be found outside the Red River Valley of the Dakotas, but cut up in innumerable cabbage patches, for want of a better name, by ungainly wooden fences. Unpainted houses with painted shutters. Solemn little groups of Jesuits walking the lanes of villages whose crowning glory seems to be a majestic bell-crowned chapel. Quaint inns and taverns. French signs everywhere.

And soon we come to the banks of the majestic St. Lawrence, blue as azure, rippling in the sunlight. Yonder, across the river, is Montreal, metropolis of Canada, one of the most beautiful, interesting, and colorful cities on the continent.

St. James Cathedral, an exact duplicate, one-third the size of the famous St. Peter's in Rome. Notre Dame, most significant of French-Canadian churches and seating 18,000 people. Chateau de Ramezay, University of Montreal (French), McGill University (English), colorful French restaurants and cafes with food that admits no equal, majestic Mt. Royal, quaint, open-air sight-seeing trolleys. You just won't allow yourself to be dragged away from Montreal — it's fascinating beyond words.

And so we say to Theta Chis in all parts of the nation. "On to New England for your vacation." A line from you to the department of publicity at Montpelier, Vt., Concord, N. H., Augusta, Me., Boston, Mass., Providence, R. I., or Hartford, Connecticut, will bring you road-maps and folders to your heart's content. On to Northfield to climax your vacation with the most significant convention in your generation. Northeast to Norwich to the convention that just cannot be missed. See you all in Northfield, Thursday morning, August 27.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI PLAN STATE WIDE ASSOCIATION

A novel "round-up" of Theta Chi alumni resident in Wisconsin, is being planned by the Milwaukee Alumni Chapter, June 19, 20, and 21, at the Psi Chapter house, 144 Langdon Street, Madison, Wisconsin, for the purpose of effecting a statewide fraternity alumni association.

The affair will be purely "stag," it has been announced, and alumni attending are asked to bring golf clubs, fishing tackle, swimming suits, old clothes, and all accessories for a good time in the out-doors. There will be no charge save as reimbursement for the meals and room service.

Reservations for the affair are being taken by Arthur E. Timm, National Lead Company, 1534 South First Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

TO LAY CORNERSTONE

Alpha Zeta's first annual reunion on the University of Rochester's River Campus, will be held June 12. The reunion and banquet will feature the laying of the cornerstone of Alpha Zeta's new home. Dr. Conrad H. Moehlman, '01, will officiate in the ceremony. In the afternoon the alumni will have a baseball game with the active chapter, after which the ceremony of laying the cornerstone will take place. The banquet will be held in Todd Union. At the Founders' Day banquet there was a record attendance of sixty-nine alumni. A larger crowd is expected for June 12.

Theta Chi Chapters Make Annual Selection Of Most Valuable Men Among the Actives

HERE they are — the most valuable Theta Chis among the actives of 1930-31! Men who have been outstanding in campus affairs, men who have led in the good government of their chapters, men who have proved their capacity for leadership, all of them winners of the supreme honor that a chapter of Theta Chi may bestow: "The Most Valuable Man to the Chapter in the Past Year."

Several chapters are not included in this roll. They make no choice of a "most valuable man" for fear of showing demoralizing partiality. Other chapters go to the further extreme and present a special award, plaque, medal, or certificate, to the man who their members believe has done the most to raise Theta Chi's standard.

Some of the men chosen have served their chapters faithfully and well in the chapter halls. There are included chapter presidents who have strengthened chapter morale, built successful rushing programs, carried through successful alumni contact drives; there are treasurers who have put their chapters on firmer financial standings. Others selected have contributed most by making Theta Chi a leader in various phases of campus life. Some have been prominent both in chapter and campus affairs.

The material has been submitted by chapter correspondents:

Receives Chapter Key

At the annual Founders' Day observance held at Alpha Chapter this year, Walter B. Gibbons, '31, San Francisco, California, was awarded the Elliott Service Key, presented for the first time this year, to the member of the chapter who has done the most toward improving it during his four years in college. The qualifications are such that if any student who transferred from another school is judged to have done the most during his attendance at the University, he becomes eligible. At the celebration last year, Elwood Elliott was given an engraved cigarette case as a token of appreciation for the work that he had done. In order to carry on this practice of an award for service, Elliott had a design made for a key which he presents each year. This year the underclassmen selected Gibbons as being the one to receive the key. He has done his work in the chapter with the same conscientious attitude which Elliott showed. He has spent more than one vacation here doing work which could very easily have been given to someone else. He is chapter vice president and in that capacity has offered many valuable suggestions. He is a high ranking military student, varsity football man, member of Skull and Swords, senior honorary society, star weight man on the track team, and well-liked in the chapter.

Promotes Pledge Training

Gamma Chapter (Maine) selected Freeman George Webb, '33, as the most outstanding man of the chapter for the year, and at the annual banquet, April 11, he was presented with a cup, as has become the custom of the chapter in past years. Webb's collegiate activities have been principally of an athletic nature. He is the best high jumper and pole vaulter in the state and probably the best in New England. He won the dual meet with Bates some time ago by taking the pole vault, the deciding event.

He was elected marshal of the chapter and has made pledge training an important factor. His continuous good nature and readiness to lend a helping hand have made him appreciated by all.

Was Publication Head

The most valuable man to Epsilon (Worcester) this year, has been Walker Taft Hawley. As all the actives, and most of the alumni know, he has done everything within his power for the chapter. He has been largely responsible for improving the looks of the chapter room, dining room, and other parts of the house. From the first Walker took an active interest in the affairs of the Tech News, and in recognition of his ability, he was rewarded with the post of editor-in-chief. He was a member of the soccer team as well. He was always present at interfraternity contests, and a number of times did his part towards winning cups for Epsilon. Through Hawley and his mother Epsilon has a fine

Mother's Club, to which the chapter owes many opportune waffle parties during rushing season. Hawley was also active in Y. M. C. A. work and to him that organization owes much for its development.

Names Chapter President

Zeta Chapter selected Rexford Dean, chapter president for the past year and largely responsible for its advance on the New Hampshire campus. He has also been prominent in campus activities as president of Senior Skulls, honor society; member of Casque and Casket, fraternity governing body; and a member of the Student Council, governing body for undergraduates.

Rexford Dean

Leads in Activities

Donald Keith Davidson is the choice of Eta (Rhode Island State). In addition to rendering active assistance to his chapter in the chapter room and on the campus he has been a leader in activities. His collegiate extra-curricular activities include football, track, band, Glee Club, orchestra, R. O. T. C., Officers' Club, and membership on class hop committees. He has served his chapter as president during the past year.

Manages College Store

The actives of Theta Chapter at the Massachusetts State College choose William F. Batstone, '32, as the man outstanding in the chapter for his zeal, fidelity, and good hard work in behalf of the fraternity for the year 1930-31. He became president of Theta Chapter in his junior year, and though inexperienced in fraternity government, he soon made it clear that as an organizer and leader he was all that could be desired. Through a most discouraging, adverse period of the chapter's history, Batstone successfully guided the members to their goal as one of the strongest fraternities on the State College campus. He was Theta's representative to the seventy-fourth annual convention in California last summer. Batstone is working for a B. S. degree, majoring in poultry husbandry, and serving a table of ten freshmen at the College Dining Hall. He is acquiring a basic business training as manager and part owner of the New College Store, a flourishing business enterprise, owned and operated by members of Theta Chapter. He is an excellent musician, playing several instruments. He recently became president of the Interfraternity Council of which he has been a member for more than a year. In spite of all these extra-curricular activities, his name appears on the College Honor Roll for scholarship.

In Hall of Fame

James W. Ferguson, choice of Iota (Colgate), is a member of Alpha Chi Sigma, national chemistry society. As a junior he was assistant varsity cheerleader and became varsity cheerleader last year. His other activities include Gorgon's Head, honorary senior society; Varsity "C" Banquet Committee; director of employment, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; and senior class treasurer. He was placed in Banta's Hall of Fame as one of the most prominent seniors.

James W. Ferguson

Is Excellent Leader

Upsilon Chapter at the end of this year loses as an active, William J. McKeon, one of its most valuable members, and a man who has put forth every effort to make Upsilon (New York University) one of the strong chapters of Theta Chi. By his example he has created an honest desire among his fellow chapter members for scholastic endeavor. He acquired a Delta Mu Delta key, a scholastic achievement in commerce; and has been president of the society. He claims that much of his excellence in his subjects is due to the encouragement and advice given him in his freshman year when he became a member of Theta Chi. Besides being an outstanding student McKeon has won two letters in boxing. He recently completed his athletic career by knocking out his opponent in 35 seconds in a meet with M. I. T. In spite of activities, he has worked his way through college by serving forty hours a week in the Commerce Library. McKeon was at one time treasurer of Upsilon Chapter and is the retiring president. He has been active in school politics and in the publication of the Medley, comic magazine.

Returns to Chapter

C. L. Bittinger, voted the member of Nu who has done most for the chapter during the past school year, completed his A. B. degree in 1928, taught for two years, and returned for his B. S. degree. His aid has been invaluable in giving the chapter a most successful year. His absence from college caused him to lose touch with campus activities; as a result upon his return, he gave most of his attention outside of classroom demands to the affairs of Nu Chapter. His leadership developed unity and fraternity strength.

C. L. Bittinger

Is President Twice

Omicron Chapter has chosen William L. Groth twice its president, and during the past year he has given every bit of his spare time in making Theta Chi one of the outstanding fraternities at the University of Richmond. Groth was a valued member of the varsity football team and is well known in campus affairs.

Has Many Activities

William M. Morrow, '31, has not limited his service to Pi Chapter (Dickinson) as the following activities readily show: football manager (4); Student Athletic Council (4); Raven's Claw, senior honorary; Omicron Delta Kappa. In addition to these activities he has served as chapter president this year. Morrow has been a leader in the chapter since his initiation in 1928, being chosen early as the outstanding man of his class in the chapter.

Wm. M. Morrow

Leads Chapter to Success

Ronald Johnson, '31, was selected by Sigma (Oregon State). As president he guided the chapter through one of the most successful periods in its history, when it attained recognition both scholastically and athletically. Sigma not only won the All-School Intramural Athletic Trophy, but placed consistently in the upper quarter of the fraternity grade standings. Through genuine perseverance, initiative, and ability, Johnson has added materially to Sigma's good standing, and has aided the fraternity and himself by accumulating a list of activities which are alone indicative of real merit.

Ronald Johnson

Betters Financial Standing

Tau Chapter (Florida) chose Leo V. Collins, '31, one of the most diligent workers in the history of the group. Through his efforts as treasurer the finances have been well handled. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, business administration, and is on the dance committee of the Serpent Ribbon Society. In his first two years he was a member of the band and of the Masqueraders. Tau Chapter's weakness, if any, has been a lack of able financial organization, and Collins proved just the man needed to improve conditions.

Leo V. Collins

Is Outstanding Athlete

Members of Phi Chapter selected Leo G. May, '31, one of the most outstanding athletes ever to be graduated from North Dakota State. He has won nine varsity letters in major sports in the last three seasons. All-conference selection in basketball and football, captain of basketball and football teams, records in the weight events in track, president of Phi Chapter, member of Blue Key, member of Scabbard and Blade, and an excellent scholastic average have all been among his accomplishments. May will continue with his athletic career in coaching work.

Leo G. May

Introduces Activity Rating

Selection of Gardner A. James by Alpha Delta (Purdue) was based on his ability as a leader in campus and chapter activities. He was assistant manager of the amateur dramatic organization as well as a member of various Pan-Hellenic and Union committees. Despite his campus activities, James held many chapter positions. He was vice president, Senior Pan-Hellenic Representative, rushing captain, and social committee chairman. Perhaps the most important thing that James did for the chapter was the development of an activity system. This consists of an elaborate rating scale by which all activities, both campus and chapter, are rated in points. At the end of each semester the member or pledge who has gained the most points has his name placed on an activity plaque. Although this system has only been in operation for one semester, it has been the incentive for a large increase in extra-curricular activities among the members. In the capacity of rushing captain James introduced the use of a personality rating test to be used on all pledges. From the results of this test the chapter has been able to determine the weak points in a man's personality and use these results as a basis for correcting these weaknesses.

Supervises Pledges Well

Edward W. White, '32, as chapter marshall, supervised the training of Omega's twelve pledges during the past year and inducted them into the fraternity, February 15. After graduation from Conshohocken High School, in 1928, he enrolled in Penn State's growing School of Education. During his first year he was elected to the Student Council, on which body he served during his second year. He was also sophomore reporter for the Penn State Collegian, college newspaper, and has served as associate editor this year, being elected assistant editor on the senior staff. He is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, and has served on the Committee on Scholastic Ethics for two years.

Edward W. White

Is High Scholastically

The distinction of being the man who has contributed most to Alpha Beta Chapter this year, goes to Herbert T. Lebreuz, '31, who for three years has worked untiringly for his chapter and has held the offices of historian and secretary, and served on many committees. He has made an excellent scholastic record in civil engineering, qualifying him for membership in Sigma Tau. In extra-curricular activities, Lebreuz has been outstanding on the Pitt campus. He is president of Pitt Players and has been stage and production manager as well as a part of the technical staff of this organization. He also served on the Yuletide Festival Committee.

H. T. Lebreuz

He is a member of Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatics, and a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. He has worked hard to gain recognition for Alpha Beta Chapter and has inspired the chapter to extend its efforts into various extra-curricular activities.

Michigan's Outstanding Man

That Alpha Gamma should choose H. Bruce Palmer was natural as he had been repeatedly recognized as one of the most outstanding men on the University of Michigan's campus and he had served the chapter as president during the time of moving into the new house and the difficult first year of occupancy. Those who attended the San Francisco convention will remember him as the chapter delegate.

Conspicuous honors have been his from freshman days. His scholastic record his first semester qualified him for Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman Phi Beta Kappa, and after the first meeting of that group he was elected its president. The same year his work in the freshman gym team won him numerals. As a sophomore he proved his worth as committeeman for the Soph Prom and a member of the business staff of The Gargoyle, campus humor magazine. Election to Sphinx, junior honorary society, was the next recognition.

He was elected to the Student Council, student governing body, at the beginning of his junior year and was chosen its secretary. He served on the Council his senior year as well. In the spring of his junior year came Michigan's highest student distinction, membership in Michigamua, coveted all-senior honorary society. He was chosen president of the senior class, and as such will lead the two thousand and more graduates when they receive their diplomas Commencement Day. His work on the Gargoyle caused him to be chosen business manager, and he has justified that selection by an unusually successful year.

Despite the heavy demands on his efforts for alma mater he met his obligations to his fraternity loyally. Under his leadership the chapter not only has enjoyed its first year in the new house, but it has met the heavy first year financial demands successfully, including four hundred dollars for landscaping. The chapter room was made one of the finest in the fraternity. The chapter again ranked second in intramural competition with sixty-odd fraternities. The twentieth anniversary alumni reunion was made a memorable event, and, perhaps most important, the Mothers' Club was organized, an institution that has already proved of great value. The library has been increased. Legislation was passed that will improve chapter scholarship.

Leads in Varied Fields

Alfred J. Henderson, '31, who has been president of the chapter this year was chosen by Alpha Zeta (Rochester).

Alfred J. Henderson

In college he has had a varied career. He became soloist for the Glee Club in his freshman year, as he has a fine baritone voice. Last year, as manager of the club, he did everything necessary to make for one of its best seasons and this year, much of the success of the Glee Club has been due to his efforts as student leader. On February 14, he led the club in the New York State Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest. He has sung in the Chapel Choir each year and is in demand as a soloist in several Rochester churches. As a member of the general council all four years, he has distinguished himself in several different fields of Y. M. C. A. work: secretary, freshman camp director, president of University Y, member Advisory Board, member for two years on Executive Committee of the National Student Y. The president of the Y. M. C. A. in the University of Rochester holds an influence and a position as a leader in the university, second only to that of president of the Student's Association.

Henderson has made a name for himself in several other activities. He was a member of the staff of the Interpres, the junior year book, chairman of the song committee for two years, chairman of the Sophomore banquet, winner of the second Dewey prize declamation contest for sophomores, and a member of the frosh traditions committee. Besides all of these activities he has found time to go out for varsity track. His events are the high jump and the javelin throw. He is a member of the Troubadours, musical honorary, and the Keideans, senior honorary.

As president of Alpha Zeta, Henderson has been responsible for holding the chapter together this year without a house. He has improved the standing, both scholastic and athletic, of the chapter, despite adverse condition.

Held Fellowship

Retiring president Vernon L. Wharton,

Vernon L. Wharton

selected by Alpha Eta Chapter, had a teaching fellowship in history and government when he came to the University of Carolina in 1929 and joined the chapter. He was graduated from Millsaps College, Mississippi, in 1928. He is a member of Alpha Phi Epsilon, forensic; Sigma Upsilon, literary; Omicron Delta Kappa, extra-curricular activity; and Eta Sigma, local scholastic. His personality as president of Alpha Eta has held the brothers in a cooperative spirit during a most trying period.

Revises Chapter Accounts

In the March elections at Alpha Theta (Dartmouth) David Walton Kelley, '31,

David Walton Kelley

was chosen the man who had done the most for the development of the chapter. On Founders' Day he was presented with the cup by which Alpha Theta yearly expresses gratitude for diligence and fraternity spirit. Kelley has not confined his activities to fraternity work alone. He was a member of the class track team during his freshman year, and was out for freshman football. The following year he competed for varsity basketball and baseball teams. In his junior year his scholastic average placed him among the group of selected men who do honor work in English, his major. He was also elected to membership in the Round Table Society.

In his second year as a Theta Chi he volunteered his services as organizer of intramural sports for the chapter, and under his guidance Alpha Theta achieved a creditable showing in that line for the first time. When he took over the duties of chapter treasurer last fall he did the work which won for him the coveted cup given by Alpha Theta. From the unregulated system of memorandums which distinguished the treasury books in former years, he succeeded in bringing forth orderly, up-to-date accounts which have proved efficient. Under his supervision, the chapter enacted by-laws which insured prompt payment of dues with the result that the chapter was enabled to make the final payment on a large debt of long standing. The firm basis on which the fraternity's finances now stand testify to Kelley's efficiency in doing his job.

Was Chapter Treasurer

William A. Haslam, '32, Alpha Kappa, at

West Virginia University has been outstanding in both campus and chapter affairs and an exceptional student. His campus activities are as follows: Mining Engineering Society, treasurer; member American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; and member of the council in charge of co-operative buying. His chapter activities include chapter assistant treasurer and treasurer, chairman of the rushing committee and participation in all intramural sports enjoyed at West Virginia.

Wm. A. Haslam

Is Outstanding Journalist

In a recent chapter meeting Alpha Iota's selection was Vincent R. Fowler, '31. He will receive his A. B. degree in Political Science this June. In the fall of 1927, Fowler became a staff member of the Indiana Daily Student, official campus publication. He has served as reporter, city editor, copy editor, night editor, associate editor, and finally, editor-in-chief. In his sophomore year he was elected to Sigma Delta Chi, and served as one of the sophomore assistants on the Arbutus, University yearbook. He also was named associate editor of the Regimental Review, publication of the R. O. T. C. unit of Indiana University.

Fowler's activities are not in the field of journalism alone. During his sophomore year he was a founder of an organization which was granted a charter by Blue Key, for which he has served as secretary-treasurer and president. During his junior year, he was named as the managing editor of the 1930 Arbutus, and was elected to the Board of Control of the Indiana Union. He also served as county chairman of the University's Memorial Drive in collection of funds to erect a new Indiana University Union Building. As one of the officers of Blue Key during his junior year he was made chairman of the committee sponsoring the organization of an honorary freshman scholastic fraternity. The organization was granted a charter by Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary freshman scholastic fraternity. He also served as senior adviser to that organization.

His senior year he was selected as a member of the Campus Council, an organization of upperclassmen which regulates social rules for the university. He was also elected president of both Blue Key and Sigma Delta Chi during his last year of school.

In his four years in the chapter Fowler has been a great help to the fraternity life as historian and vice president. He expects to enter the newspaper field upon graduation.

Helps Build Chapter

Paul G. Korn has in many ways contributed to the well-being and development of Alpha Lambda (Ohio State) the last year. He has been a most efficient secretary, chairman of the rushing committee, and special chairman of the social committee. Last year he attended the 74th convention. Korn directed the joint Founders' Day observance of Alpha Tau and Alpha Lambda Chapters this year at the Deshler Hotel in Columbus. The affair was one of the outstanding celebrations of the event.

Secures Cooperation

Carl E. Erickson, who has filled the president's chair during the last year, has been chosen by Alpha Pi (Minnesota). The close fraternal spirit in this group can be accredited largely to his ability to secure chapter cooperation. A different rushing period was attacked by the chapter as one man, and it is through his leadership that Alpha Pi was able to maintain its present enviable position. He is an excellent student, instilling in the chapter the ambition for high grades, which will be apparent when the comparative gradings are compiled.

President as a Junior

Alpha Mu, unanimously selected Frederick Y. Thompson, '32, who has gained considerable recognition on the campus and in the chapter. He has been in two Veishea plays and was in the Engineer's Show in 1930. He was also elected treasurer of the junior class. Last year he was elected marshal, making an excellent pledge leader. The following year he was elected chapter president. His success in that office was due to his ability of leadership. He secured the cooperation of both actives and pledges and built a stronger fraternity group. Although the chapter has not had an outstanding record in the intramural field, he succeeded in spurring the members to unusual activity and was very active in rushing, obtaining several pledges. Next year he will be chairman of the rushing committee.

Raises Chapter Standards

This year Alpha Chi (Syracuse) honored Lionel D. Sutherland for his sincere efforts to make Theta Chi rank first on the Syracuse campus.

He served as vice president during the past year, conscientiously working to establish and maintain effective chapter government. By consistent, persevering effort he succeeded in developing a spirit of cooperation within the chapter resulting in a commendable enforcement of house rules. Level-headed, far-seeing, and ambitious, he was a prominent factor in determining and carrying out an effective administrative policy. It was largely through his efforts that emphasis was placed on scholastic status. Furthermore, his untiring efforts in rushing and his donation of time and effort to make the social season a success have won him the sincere admiration of the chapter as a leader and all around good fellow.

On the campus he has done much to bring honor and recognition to Theta Chi. He is a member of Scabbard and Blade; Phi Kappa Phi; Alpha Xi Sigma, honorary forestry; and Alpha Chi Sigma, chemistry. In addition he holds the presidency of the Forestry College Student Council and the block S for varsity swimming and rifle team competition. As a member of the 2nd Corps Area R. O. T. C. rifle team he represented Theta Chi in the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, last summer. At the same time he is treasurer of the Forestry Club and an R. O. T. C. captain. However, with all his outside activities, Sutherland has maintained a high scholastic standing during his four years at Syracuse University and has taken an enthusiastic part in the affairs of Alpha Chi since his transfer here as a freshman from Kappa Chapter.

Works for New House

Cecil F. Collins is the choice of Alpha Rho (Washington). As president, he has played an important part in building the group this year. He has been active in working for the new house, and has striven to raise the morale of the members. Although he is a pre-medical student, Cecil has given his time whole heartedly to the chapter. He was a member of the Theta Chi basketball team that won the intramural basketball championship. He made his numeral in frosh basketball and was on the varsity squad for two years. He is a varsity golf player, and has won his "W" in that sport. Cecil has been on the Interfraternity Council for the last two years and has been very active. Last year he held the position of zoology laboratory instructor. All these activities have not interfered with his scholastic standing, for he has consistently been on the honor roll since his freshman year. Cecil is a graduating senior and expects to enter the University of Oregon Medical School next fall.

Wins Advertising Honors

John G. Painton was chosen by Alpha Sigma Chapter. Painton is a junior, majoring in business administration at the University of Oregon. His list of activities is varied. He was an advertising solicitor on the Oregon Daily Emerald for two years and in return for this work received appointment to office manager. Due to this work he also became a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising, and was awarded the Emerald "Q" for excellent work during his two years as solicitor. He was also a member of the Junior Prom Committee, the Mother's Day Directorate, the Canoe Fete Committee, and at the present is a cadet officer in the R. O. T. C. He has been chapter secretary for two years, and has been in charge of the general housework done by the freshman and pledges for one year. At the present time he is in charge of improving the lawn and grounds.

Makes Alumni Contact

Alpha Tau Chapter had little difficulty in selecting Robert E. Leake, retiring president. The chapter loses one of its most interested workers when he is graduated. Leake has been a chapter officer for the past three years. In his second year he was historian, Rattle correspondent, and editor of The Tab, chapter publication. As a junior he served as secretary, making one of his greatest contributions to the fraternity in reorganizing the alumni files and establishing closer relations with those who had been graduated. His success in this work was reflected in the Fifth Anniversary Reunion of Alpha Tau Chapter held at the close of last year. Contact was established with a great majority of the alumni, and Leake was able to report ahead of time the number who would return for the celebration. Through his initiative, the chapter has developed a higher degree of cooperation with alumni than it has had in the past.

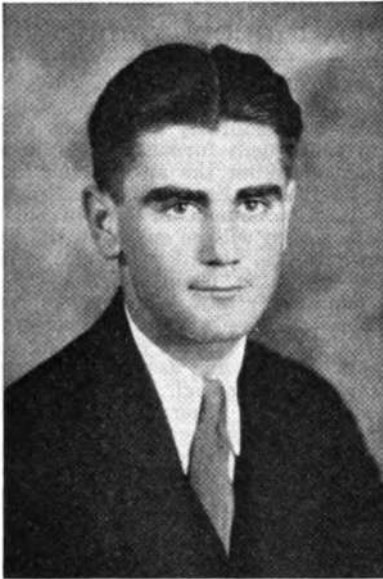

R. E. Leake

He has not only been a leader in the chapter itself, but has taken part in numerous campus activities as well. He was a member of the Ohio University Men's Glee Club for three years, a member of Delta Gamma Mu, journalistic, Blue Key, and the Green and White staff for two years. In his third year Leake served as secretary of the Men's Union, Ohio men's organization and during his senior year, was vice president of his class. He has been a student assistant in the Ohio University Library for three years. It is regrettable that just as he leaves this work a beautiful new library is to be placed in use.

Is Rhodes Candidate

In honoring Henry J. Whiting, Alpha Psi believes that it has chosen the most outstanding man on the Maryland campus. In the chapter his aid has been invaluable, and he has exerted great influence on the members. The chapter recognized his ability to rush freshmen by electing him vice president for this year. He was later forced to resign on account of other duties. Whiting's activity record has probably never been equaled on the Maryland campus. The school authorities recognized this by selecting him as candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship. Besides the numerous clubs and fraternities that he belongs to, Brother Whiting held two of the most prominent major offices of the school, that of colonel of the R. O. T. C., and president of the Student Government Association. The latter is the highest position that it is possible for an undergraduate to hold.

Henry J. Whiting

Has Varied Talents

Jack Buell Wheelock has been selected as the man who has contributed the most to the development of Alpha Upsilon Chapter (Nebraska). He is enrolled in the pre-medical college and expects to attend the medical school at Omaha next year. Wheelock is well known on the campus and is well liked. He is prominent in musical circles, since he is a talented singer. Wheelock has been a member of the Corn-cobs, Glee Club, Kosmet Club, varsity quartet, and president of A Capella Choir. He also holds a commission as second lieutenant in the Cavalry Reserves.

Jack B. Wheelock

Among his outstanding achievements in the chapter this year, he took over the editorship of Nubbins and published an outstanding chapter publication promptly each month. As social chairman, he provided the most successful parties in the history of the chapter. Voluntarily acting as house manager last fall, Wheelock always managed to get the necessary work done efficiently until a permanent house manager could take his place. He just finished the year as chapter historian. His reports were in on time, because persistency and promptness are by-words with Brother Wheelock.

Is Good House Manager

At a spirited meeting, James Allen Beebe, '32, Livingston, was chosen as the man who has done the most for Alpha Phi (Alabama) during the past year. To him the chapter owes the success of its musicale. Besides being active in the conduct of extra-curricular activities, he is a good house manager. The members elected him to a second term in this office as a testimonial to his ability and willingness. His activities are, Greeks, interfraternity social society; Druids, of which he is a charter member; and the University Spirit Committee.

James A. Beebe

Is Class Salutatorian

Preston James Beil, is Alpha Omega's selection. He possesses the admiration of the entire chapter, having a rare mixture of humor and seriousness in his make-up. He has brought honor to Alpha Omega on the Lafayette campus with his numerous activities. His recent selection as salutatorian of his class for Class Day exercises attests to his popularity. His ability was shown in the type of yearbook he edited and the many offices of importance he holds on the campus. His membership in the Senior Honorary Society has been merited. Beil also edited the Lafagraphic, college scandal sheet, was the managing editor of the college semi-weekly newspaper, helped organize the literary magazine, is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, participated in the Senior Conference Groups, has served on various college dance committees, was a member of both the band and Glee Club. As Alpha Omega's first librarian he stimulated interest in the house library and gave it a good start on its way to success.

Edited Petition

Lewis B. Sims, recently elected president of the chapter for the coming year, was adjudged by Beta Alpha Chapter to be its most valuable man. Sims has an enviable record in chapter and campus affairs. Serving as vice president of the chapter for the past year, he was in charge of editing the petition and sent forth a finished product. During the period that Beta Alpha was the local Delta Mu Sigma, Sims held the position of pledge master and member of the executive committee. Among his campus activities are: freshman tennis team, varsity tennis squad, Glee Club vice president, Varsity Quartette, Pi Sigma Alpha secretary-treasurer, and A Capella Choir.

Ernest L. Dewald has received the highest distinction given to graduating seniors in landscape architecture at Ohio State University. He was awarded one of the Lake Forest Foundation scholarships to seniors in landscape architecture for excellence of scholarship and character and for artistic ability. The holders will compete next summer at Lake Forest, Ill., against the best students from other middle western universities and from Harvard.

WINS ART SCHOLARSHIP

The participant making the best showing will be awarded a European traveling fellowship, while the person who is second will be given an American fellowship. Dewald has recently been initiated into Tau Sigma Delta, honorary in architecture and allied arts.

To Honor Founders

Impressive as will be Theta Chi's 75th anniversary convention, the most impressive moment undoubtedly will be the unveiling and subsequent formal dedication of a monument marking the site of the founding of Theta Chi Fraternity on April 10, 1856. This monument of simple but appropriate design will be cut from the finest Vermont granite. In its erection and dedication every living Theta Chi is privileged to participate, for letters have been sent to all telling of the project and asking that one dollar be sent for the purpose of meeting the initial cost and assuring permanent care for the memorial. This plan was adopted to permit general participation in a fitting tribute to the founders.

The monument will be erected on the site of the Old South Barracks at Norwich, Vermont, a plot of ground having been presented to the fraternity by Miss Elizabeth Converse of Norwich, sister of the late Rear Admiral Converse, '58, one of the early initiates of Alpha Chapter. The plot of ground will be perpetually cared for under the direction of the Episcopal Diocese of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Preceding the formal ceremony of unveiling each active delegate will deposit in a copper chest in the base of the monument some small article characteristic of his chapter. In the chest also will be placed a fraternity history, a roster, convention program, a list of the contributors, and other articles of historic interest. The chest will be sealed. Then each delegate will pass by the monument, placing mortar on the sealed vault with a special trowel on which will be engraved his name and which will be returned to the chapter as a convention souvenir. The top of the monument will then be rolled forward and set in the mortar, after which the unveiling and dedication will proceed.

On the face of the monument will be a bronze crest and a tablet bearing the following inscription: "Here in the South Barracks of Norwich University Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase founded Theta Chi Fraternity on April 10, 1856. Unveiled by the 75th annual convention of Theta Chi Fraternity, August 29, 1931."

Contributions are to be sent to H. W. Steere, convention chairman, Amesbury, N. H.

UNLOCK THE PADLOCKS

University of Michigan authorities relented sufficiently to permit the five padlocked fraternity houses to be opened in time for the chapters to initiate their freshmen and the departing seniors to entertain their parents at commencement time. Social probation, however, will be enforced until September, 1932.

From Coast to Coast Thousands Pay Loyal Tribute to Founders of Theta Chi Fraternity

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago, April 10, in a tiny barracks room at Norwich University, Norwich, Vermont, two men duly initiated each other into the mysteries of Theta Chi Fraternity. The following night, two friends of theirs were permitted to enter the society they had founded. Years passed. With their passage came the growth of that society to a national organization, carrying the ideals promulgated by Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast, from Maine to Florida.

And seventy-five years after that meeting of two men in a tiny barracks room, thousands gathered to do homage to their foresight and ability — to the ideals they had handed down to their posterity in Theta Chi.

Such was the seventy-fifth anniversary of Founders' Day, this year.

Practically every chapter reported some striking observance of this diamond birthday of the fraternity. With formal banquets, dances, memorial services, flag-raising ceremonies, and solemn tribute, Theta Chi did honor to its originators.

Many of the alumni organizations sponsored large banquets and get-togethers in cooperation with active chapters in nearby colleges. Alumni of Troy, Albany, and Schenectady entertained actives from Delta, Alpha, Alpha Theta, and all eastern colleges wherein are chapters of Theta Chi.

Upsilon Chapter at New York University, with an idea to renewing the ceremonies and pledges of Theta Chi in the hearts of the members, combined their initiation and Founders' Day celebration, in conjunction with the New York Theta Chi Club.

Alpha Psi Chapter met with the Washington Alumni Club at Washington, D. C.

Other chapters held joint observances. Alpha Tau Chapter, Ohio University, met with Alpha Lambda Chapter, Ohio State University, Columbus. Sigma and Alpha Sigma chapters met at the Alpha Sigma chapter house at the University of Oregon.

Zeta Chapter invited past presidents to return and presented them with gold gavels significant of the offices they had held.

Following are detailed accounts of how the various chapters of Theta Chi observed Founders' Day, submitted through the various chapter correspondents:

Presents Service Key

Founders' Day at Alpha was celebrated with a banquet, held in the dining room of the chapter house, after which alumni gave impressions of the fraternity. Walter E. Day, '31, acted as toastmaster. Dr. J. H. Judkins, '90, recalled incidents about the early days of the chapter. Professor C. N. Barber, '08, outlined plans for the coming convention and Alpha's duties. Professor C. V. Woodbury, an honorary member, gave an interesting talk, which was followed by that of Professor P. D. Baker, '20. We welcomed George C. Randall, '04, and Colonel Shuttleworth, '89. The Elliott Service Key was presented to W. B. Gibbons, '31, by W. H. Foster, '32. After the meeting concluded Gibbons and Kurz left for Albany to attend the Founders' Day observance there. Foster, Brooks, and Day made the trip the next day.

Give Cup to Outstanding Man

The most important affair of the month at Gamma Chapter of Maine was the observing of Founders' Day. Red carnations were worn by all members and pledges, April 10. On the evening of April 11, the freshman banquet and Soph Hop having been held on the tenth, a banquet was given in honor of the founders of Theta Chi. John Smyth, Alpha Delta, '20, was the principal speaker. Freeman Webb, '33, was presented with a cup as the most outstanding man of the chapter this year. An informal party was held immediately afterward with music furnished by Larry's Bears. The chaperones were Captain and Mrs. Wear.

Delta Sent Fifty-eight

According to the custom which the Schenectady Alumni Chapter has set, Founders' Day was observed with a banquet at the Mohawk Golf Club, Schenectady, April 11. Delta Chapter was there practically one hundred per cent with fifty-eight active and alumni members present. This number was about one-third of the total attendance. After the banquet Delta housed fifteen visiting Theta Chis for the night.

Install Officers

As has been the custom at Epsilon for the past several years, Founders' Day was observed with the annual installation of officers. Carl Meyer, '22, past president, and president of the Worcester Alumni Chapter, was the honor guest and acted as installing officer. This was the first time that either the sophomores or freshmen had witnessed an installation, since initiation last year was not held until after Founders' Day on account of second term rushing. Four members of this chapter attended the banquet which the Schenectady Alumni Chapter held Saturday: Pearson, Deane, Hawley, and Johnson.

Hold Special Dance

Founders' Day came in the middle of the Junior Prom week-end at Massachusetts State College. On the evening of that day, following the custom of past years, Theta Chi Fraternity held its annual spring house dance. This year the occasion was, naturally, a double celebration. To commemorate the event Theta actives prepared the house for the dance with pictures of the founders, a large specially constructed coat-of-arms of the fraternity, together with other fitting decorations. At 9 o'clock, the orchestra played the strains of "It Is to Thee" while the entire assemblage stood in silent tribute to Theta Chi's founders, an impressive observance.

Honor Two Members

Kappa Chapter celebrated Founders' Day April 14, due to Easter vacation, April 10, with a dinner at the Hotel Walton, Philadelphia. Eighty Theta Chis, actives and alumni, attended. L. T. Haldeman acted as toastmaster. Brief talks were made by Dr. Samuel Patterson, Frank Schrenk, Rodney Bonsall, Adrian Teaf, and Paul Scull. Dickson Barnhart was awarded the cup for outstanding scholarship. It is interesting to note that he is also prominent in activities and is captain of the varsity crew. The retiring president, Gustave Beckler, was the recipient of the cup for having done the most for the chapter in the past year. Walter Faries, who had been unanimously chosen alumnus adviser for the next three years, was presented with the alumnus adviser certificate by President Becker. Quite a few of the members spoke briefly and then after a moment of silent memorial to the founders, the group adjourned.

Girls at Nu's Banquet

Nu Chapter (Hampden-Sydney) observed Founders' Day April 10, with a banquet at historic "Longwood" in Farmville, Virginia. Brief talks on the history and origin of Theta Chi were made by McGirt, Bloch, Clark, McLaughlin, and Dingwall. Visiting alumni were Page Morton and Booker Carter. They also gave entertaining talks on the ideals of the fraternity and what the fraternity had meant to them. Guests included a number of girls from the State Teachers' College and elsewhere.

Enjoy Spanish Ball

Founders' Day was observed at Tau Chapter, (Florida) April 10 with the annual Spanish Ball, one of the most brilliant events of the house party season at Florida. The front of Tau's Spanish stucco house was decorated with several hundred colored lights. The main ball room and the inside of the house were festooned with Spanish moss and numerous gayly colored shawls. Under the lights were shades, with the letters Theta and Chi mounted on transparent paper carrying out the colors military red and white. The bright picturesque costumes of the dancers also aided in creating a decided Spanish atmosphere. At midnight Senorita Marion Castor of Tampa was presented as the queen of the annual Theta Chi Spanish Ball.

Formal Meeting Held

Founders' Day was celebrated at Xi, (Virginia), in the midst of Easter week — a time when everything is completely "topsy-turvy" at Virginia, but a special meeting was held nevertheless. The alumnus adviser certificate was presented to Alvin Biscoe, a few brief speeches were made, and the traditional memorial paid to brothers who have passed on. The meeting was formal.

Carve Annual Roast Pig

Phi Chapter (North Dakota State) celebrated the 75th anniversary of the fraternity's founding with its annual roast pig banquet in the dining hall of the chapter house April 10. Seventy-five actives and alumni were present. Among the twenty alumni in attendance was Judge Burleigh Spalding, a member of Alpha Chapter, Norwich University, when Theta Chi was confined to a lone chapter. Professor John E. Doerr, Psi, was the principal speaker of the evening, giving a short talk on the history of Theta Chi. Other speakers included Judge Spalding, Past President Curtis Ball, and various members of the active chapter who were called on to give impromptu speeches. Morris Erickson was toastmaster. C. A. Williams and George Dixon, alumni, were official carvers of the pig.

Formal Banquet, Pledge Quiz

Omega Chapter, (Penn State) commemorated Founders' Day with a formal banquet at the chapter house at 7 o'clock, April 10. Frances J. Doan, alumnus adviser, was the principal speaker of the evening and gave a complete history of the organization. Not only was it the anniversary of the founding of the fraternity, but it was also a day of rejoicing for the former faculty adviser, who on that day journeyed to Altoona, Pennsylvania, and brought his son back from the City Hospital. Jackie, who is only six years old, almost lost his life following an operation for double mastoids eight weeks before. Omega also celebrated April 10 by subjecting the pledges to an unlimited fire of questions pertaining to the history of Theta Chi. By evening the answers were coming back fast and true and without the slightest hesitancy.

National Secretary Speaks

On Friday, April 10, actives and pledges of Alpha Lambda, (Ohio State) wore the carnation in commemoration of the founding of Theta Chi. In order that Founders' Day might be jointly observed with Alpha Tau Chapter, (Ohio) and that all alumni possible might be present, the formal banquet was held on the night of April 11, a dinner in the Ionian room of the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, Columbus. Seventy-three actives and pledges of Alpha Tau and Alpha Lambda, alumni of those two chapters and of Alpha Pi, Alpha Xi, and Alpha Gamma, together with guests from Ohio State University were present.

Erwin E. Dreese, Alpha Gamma, '21, head of the Electrical Engineering Department at Ohio State University, acted as toastmaster. He traced the history of the fraternity citing the difficulties under which Arthur Chase and Frederick Norton Freeman labored to establish the foundation upon which Theta Chi today rests. Joseph Parks, dean of men at Ohio State, and Assistant Dean Milligan extended their best wishes and declared their sincere faith in Theta Chi. Dean Milligan concluded his address with the words, "God could have made a better fraternity, but obviously He did not." John Barnes, Alpha Lambda, '31, sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Olive Jones, an accomplished musician, who later played her own arrangement of "When Day Is Done." Robert Leake, president of Alpha Tau Chapter sang "Sweetheart of Theta Chi."

The principal speaker on the program was George Starr Lasher, national secretary and editor of The Rattle. He gave a most inspiring talk on brotherhood, interchapter and interfraternity relations, and the importance of the observance of Founders' Day. At the close of the banquet "It Is to Thee" was sung by the light of two candles in significance of the founders.

Formal Dinner Given

Alpha Beta Chapter (Pittsburgh) observed Founders' Day with a formal dinner at the chapter house. Forty attended the dinner which was followed with informal talks by alumni and actives. At ten o'clock all heads were bowed in memory of the founders and the founding of the fraternity. Brother Baird, Psi, was present along with many Alpha Beta alumni.

Hold Sunrise Service

In commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Theta Chi's founding, Alpha Mu held its annual Founders' Day celebration at the house April 10. The Theta Chi banner was unfurled to the breeze at a brief sunrise service, and the usual banquet was held in the evening. Prof. Tolbert MacRae and Dr. Paul Emmerson gave short talks. Among the faculty present were: Dr. Emmerson, Dr. C. H. Werkman, Dean John Foster, J. A. Hopkins, Prof. Dave Sprague, and Professor MacRae. Alumni present included W. C. Bender and R. W. Baker, Phi, and L. W. Grimes from Des Moines.

Old Alumnus Speaks

Alpha Pi Chapter commemorated Founders' Day April 10 by bringing together more than seventy-five loyal alumni in the dining room of the Hotel Radisson, Minneapolis. The feature of the evening was an address by Horace Clifford, Alpha, '77, reviewing his fifty-six years as a member of Theta Chi. Judge Phil S. Randall, Alpha, '86, Little Fall, was another distinguished visitor. In addition, the chapter was hosts to Theta Chis from Alpha Mu, Phi, Alpha Gamma, and Epsilon Chapters. The evening was one to inspire those present to carry on the banner of Theta Chi for another quarter century, when will be celebrated the passing of the hundred years' mark.

Fifty Attend Banquet

Alpha Rho celebrated Founders' Day with a formal banquet in the chapter house, April 10, with fifty alumni and actives present. Tracy Coombs, Mu, '14, was toastmaster. Professor James E. Gould, Alpha Rho, spoke on "The Development of Fraternities on the University of Washington Campus," and Dr. Stevenson Smith, Nu, discussed "Founders' Day." Clifford Armstrong, chapter president, presented certificates of membership to twelve new members. He also presented a gold key to Cecil Collins, retiring president. After the banquet the remainder of the evening was given over to a social time.

Joint Dinner a Success

Founders' Day was observed jointly by Sigma and Alpha Sigma chapters at a banquet held in Alpha Sigma's chapter house, Sunday, April 19. The custom of the two chapters observing Founders' Day together at a banquet given alternately by each chapter has prevailed for some time. Usually the banquet is held at some restaurant, but this year, owing to the large chapter house at Alpha Sigma, it was decided to hold the banquet there, thereby making it more truly a Theta Chi celebration. A four piece orchestra was secured to furnish music during the meal. After the dinner speeches were given by actives and by Dr. Crosland, of the psychology department, and Dr. Sheldon, dean of the School of Education. The table was set for seventy-six.

Past President Speaks

On April 10, Founders' Day was commemorated with a banquet at the Alpha Upsilon chapter house. A large group was present, including actives, alumni, and pledges. S. Arion Lewis, Jr., '22, who lives in Omaha, was toastmaster and other alumni spoke. Elmont Waite, '31, chapter president for the past year, gave the principal address for the actives and introduced the new president, Eldon Peters, '32, who traced the progress of the chapter and outlined his plans for the coming year. Pledge President Carl Gerlach, '34, spoke in behalf of the pledges.

Faculty Members Attend

Founders' Day was the result of elaborate planning at Alpha Phi. The chapter's huge flag was draped from the front balcony to tell the campus that this was Founders' Day for Theta Chi, and a banquet was held in the chapter house that night. Guests were Dr. Lloyd, Professor Bonham, and Dr. Lang, all faculty members, who are interested in the welfare of Alpha Phi. Dr. Lang in an inspiring talk traced the history of the chapter from the time of "Cupids" until the charter was granted. The observance of Founders' Day was concluded when the entire group raised their heads from two minutes of memorial prayer at ten o'clock.

Participate in Schenectady Event

Since elaborate Founders' Day celebrations were held both in Schenectady and Rochester, this year, Alpha Chi Chapter did not hold an individual celebration, but cooperated with the Schenectady, Albany, and Troy alumni chapters in their big reunion. A fairly large delegation of actives and alumni attended the banquet, and brought back increased interest and enthusiasm. It has been the custom for the chapter to attend church in a body as a part of the Founders' Day program, but as so many members were at Schenectady this was postponed until April 26 when the chapter attended the University Chapel in a body.

Actives Meet With Alumni

Alpha Psi Chapter and the Washington Alumni Chapter held their annual joint Founders' Day Banquet, at the Hotel Roosevelt in Washington, D. C., April 10. President Hammerlund, of the active chapter, Brother Finney, Alpha, and Clair Fishell, Mu, traveling secretary, spoke briefly. Rollin Clark, Kappa, was the principal speaker, discussing the founding, early struggles, present standing, and ideals of Theta Chi. During the banquet, Shook, Alpha Psi, entertained at the piano, and several of the group sang. At the close of the banquet, all stood with bowed heads for a period of two minutes.

Alpha Omega Celebrates

Alpha Omega celebrated Founders' Day at a banquet held at the chapter house April 10. J. Carter Harris, '31, arranged the banquet, while Preston J. Beil, '31, acted as toastmaster. Between courses of the dinner, William S. Quimby, '31, led the participants in Theta Chi songs, and after the dinner the speakers of the evening, National Treasurer George V. Catuna and Walter S. Anderson, were introduced. Both talks were impressive and were thoroughly enjoyed. Brother Catuna traced the founding of the fraternity and Brother Anderson, chapter president of last year, reviewed the founding of Alpha Omega.

Call Past Presidents Back

Zeta Chapter (New Hampshire) celebrated Founders' Day this year in a manner that will make it remembered for many years. In addition to wearing the customary red carnations, a banquet and special meeting were held in the evening. Past presidents of Zeta, ever since its founding in 1910, were invited, and a number returned. After a much enjoyed banquet a special meeting was called, and at nine o'clock the third oath was read.

Afterwards, officers for the coming year were installed, with Charles W. Kemp, '10, the first chapter president, acting as installing officer. The officers installed were: David Stafford, president; Harry Wood, vice president; Charles Dawson, secretary; George Blanchard, marshal; Joseph Van der Hoeft, first guard; Rodney Griffin, second guard; Adler Ahlgren, chaplain; Bartlett McKinney, historian; Philbrook Paine, librarian. Small gold gavels were presented to Past Presidents Dean and Tilton, and they each complimented the chapter on the progress it has made. Alumni present included Brothers Steere, Atkinson, Batchelder, Whitcomb, Kemp, Tilton, Martin, and Elliott, and Tiddell of Theta Chapter.

Alumni at Banquet

The annual Founders' Day Banquet was held at the Molly Pitcher Hotel April 10, by Pi Chapter (Dickinson). The following alumni were present: J. L. Bitner, '22; R. E. Hearn, '24; F. A. Mincemoyer, '25; N. M. Eberly, '24; L. M. Green, '26; Fred A. Lumb, '29; J. H. Crabel, '30; and Paul H. Raub, Alpha Lambda, '23.

National President Speaks

Upsilon Chapter (New York University) combined Founders' Day and its regular initiation celebration, joining with the Theta Chi Club of New York in a banquet held at the Army and Navy Club. Carl Eiermann, Upsilon, '18, was toastmaster. A two-minute silence was held in memory of the founders. Frederick W. Ladue, national president, spoke, outlining the history of the fraternity throughout its seventy-five years of existence. Maxwell E. McDowell, Iota, '16, forecasted the growth of Theta Chi in the years to come. James G. Lewis, former national vice president, and Alvin W. McKaig, president of the Theta Chi Club of New York, were other speakers. Edward Tobin, Upsilon, '32, was presented with the cup offered by Dr. Petrie, '17, to the active member, not an officer, who has done the most for the chapter.

Weather Prevents Breaking Ground

Alpha Zeta (Rochester) celebrated Founders' Day by a banquet in Todd Student Union. Plans for the ground-breaking ceremony for the new house were frustrated by the inclement weather, but Alpha Zeta dates the start of building operations from April 10. Sixty-nine were present, including members of Alpha, Chi, Rho, Eta, Lambda, Iota, Delta, Alpha Eta, Alpha Theta, and Alpha Chi Chapters.

Earle M. Rugg, '13, was the principal speaker of the evening. His subject was "A Decade of Progressive Reforms in India, and the Present Outlook." He is home on leave after 15 years in India as a missionary.

An account of the early years of the fraternity was given by L. C. Hubbard, Alpha, '94, a resident of Rochester. Joseph Ikerman, Chi, '25, spoke on "Theta Chi in Its Expansion Period, 1902 to 1929," giving much information about the several chapters he has been acquainted with. The active chapter was represented by Alfred J.

Henderson, '31, president, who spoke on "Theta Chi Today," emphasizing the present status and activities of the chapter. He introduced Joseph E. Morrissey, '32, president-elect, who spoke briefly on the outlook for next year. Walter J. Dutton, '23, acted as toastmaster and Theodore F. Fitch, '22, led the singing.

Present Cup for Service

On the evening of April 10, approximately sixty Theta Chis and three pledges participated in what was undoubtedly the finest Founders' Day observance ever held at Alpha Theta Chapter (Dartmouth). After a formal banquet, opened by a reading of the proclamation from National President Ladue and a fraternity song, G. D. Morris, '31, toastmaster, exhorted each class to strive to be founders of some new policy helpful to the fraternity. William Walton, '32, president-elect, spoke to the group on behalf of the new officers. To David Kelley, '31, whose services as treasurer have been outstanding, was presented the cup which is annually voted to the senior who has done the most good for Alpha Theta during the year. In the absence of E. B. Woods, faculty adviser, F. W. Garran, a member of the Thayer School Faculty, who has given generously of his time and counsel to Alpha Theta during the past year, gave the principal address. At a business meeting following the banquet, the newly-elected officers were installed.

Ex-President Talks

Founders' Day in Boston was a beautiful spring day, and the fraternity banner at Beta Chapter waved in the breeze all day. After dinner Ex-President Binner spoke briefly, and the members congregated in the music room and sang fraternity songs.

Hold Regular Dinner

Eta Chapter enjoyed its customary Founders' Day Dinner. Later in the evening refreshments were served. Many of the older alumni were present. Cards provided entertainment.

Hold Joint Banquet

Sixteen men from Alpha Tau Chapter attended the Founders' Day banquet held in conjunction with the Alpha Lambda observance in Columbus. George Starr Lasher, national secretary, was the main speaker of the evening. Presidents of both chapters gave brief talks. Dean of Men, L. S. Parks, of Ohio State University and Fred Milligan, assistant dean of men, spoke. Members of Alpha Lambda, who arranged the program, are to be complimented upon its success.

Others Observe Event

Due to the fact that Founders' Day came within the Easter vacation period, Iota (Colgate), observed the anniversary by displaying the fraternity flag.

Vacation also caused the attendance at the Founders' Day informal banquet of Alpha Omicron Chapter (Washington State) to be limited to one half the active members. Ray Sandegren gave a review of the history of the fraternity, which was followed by open discussion on the subject of the future of the fraternity. A dance followed the banquet.

Spring vacation interfered with Alpha Gamma's observance of Founders' Day, but a brief meeting was held at midnight, April 9, at which a silent tribute was offered.

Alpha Kappa Chapter (West Virginia) observed Founders' Day at their regular dinner hour with a brief program.

A special meeting of Chi Chapter (Alabama Polytechnic) was held to celebrate Founders' Day. For one full moment each member stood silent, offering a prayer in the memory of Freeman and Chase. The meeting closed after the singing of Theta Chi songs. All the members were present.

Funds Earn High Rate

There seems to be some questions in the minds of many brothers as to how the National Board of Trustees functions.

We have tried in a series of articles in The Rattle to anticipate some possible questions and probably have done so. However, if any brother, active or alumnus, or any chapter desires any particular information we will be pleased to publish both the question and the answer, omitting the names if requested.

The trustees have held their last two meetings conjunctively with the Grand Chapter or large representation from it. The next trustees' meeting is scheduled for May 9, 1931, in Boston at the time and place of the Grand Chapter meeting. All matters of policy and procedure are mapped out to the entire satisfaction of both bodies.

Our latest statement, March 5, 1931, shows we are now getting a return of 5.29 per cent on the original purchase cost. Considering that all our non-fraternity investments have a Moody rating of one, two or three A, we feel that this is high indeed. At this date, our total holdings of all sorts is $64,144.93. A detailed statement to date of these moneys will be presented to the convention this summer.

We still have a waiting list for recipients of student loans. Fortunately it is a moving list, and many who were on it have been aided. We feel that the constitutional limitation should not be changed, but we would like to aid these brothers. Again we ask some alumnus to help out by buying some of the student loan notes, now in our hands, so that we can immediately release that purchase money to the good of some other approved applicants on our waiting list. Remember the trustees are your servants and welcome all suggestions to help them in performing their duties.

WM. W. DRUMMEY, President of the National Board of Trustees.

Alpha Rho's New Home To Be Ready October 1

By RICHARD K. MOSSMAN, Alpha Rho

WHEN completed, the new Alpha Rho chapter house will be one of the finest of either fraternity or sorority homes at the University of Washington. Work on the new residence is expected to begin about May 1st and be ready for occupancy by October 1st, the beginning of the school year. The new house will be located between 45th and 47th streets on 17th Avenue N. E., only half a block from the campus. It will be next to the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority on the south and the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity on the north. The house, as it was finally approved, will be of the Norman or French farmhouse style, built in the shape of an "L" with a tower rising in the center of the "L." The exterior will be finished in a brown warp clinker brick.

On the main floor will be the living room, dining room, library, guest room, and kitchen. These rooms will be arranged around the main entry hall which will be the six-sided base of the tower. The living room which will occupy the section of the "L" facing on 17th Street will be finished with rough beams in the ceiling, probably fir. On the north wall of the room will be a fireplace which will rise six feet from the floor and over which there will be the Theta Chi crest. The library will also contain a smaller fireplace. The library will be entirely paneled and natural hemlock beams will be used in the ceiling. The basement will contain store rooms, recreation room, furnace room, and quarters for the help.

On the second floor will be eleven study rooms, each with two closets, built-in dressers, and study tables. In addition there will be one large and one small sleeping porch, town man's room and lockers, house manager's office, and showers. The rooms will open off a corridor which will run the entire length of the building. There will be two flights of stairs, one at the south end of the structure and one in the center. There are accommodations for twenty-two men on this floor.

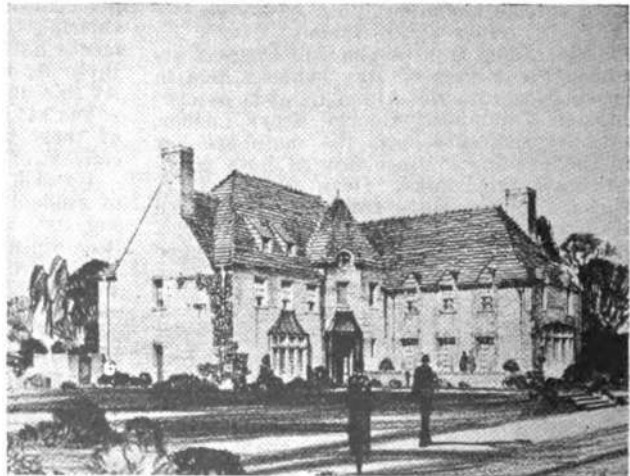

On the third floor there will be five study rooms, and one sleeping porch. The "L" section facing the street will house a large chapter room. Leading to this room will be an ante room and closets for the keeping of gowns and chapter records. Ten men can be accommodated on this floor. Another feature of the new house are the telephones on each floor. This eliminates the necessity of calling men to the phone and disturbing others.

The credit for planning this new home goes to Walter Lund and Earl Newberry, architects, of Alpha Rho Chapter, who spent many hours of their time in working on drawings of the new house.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, March 22, Alpha Iota Chapter celebrated ten years of progress on the Indiana University campus. The day was closed with a formal dinner at which the chapter's efforts were recounted by actives and alumni. Principal speakers of the evening included faculty members and alumni who were present at the installation in 1921. E. W. Arnett, faculty adviser; Wyatt E. May, alumni adviser; and Vincent Fowler, responded for the chapter. Dr. W. L. Bryan, president of the university, Dr. B. D. Myers, dean of the School of Medicine, Dr. S. E. Stout, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and J. W. Cravens, registrar of the university, all spoke for the faculty. The principal address of the evening was given by Professor George Starr Lasher, national secretary, who gave his hearers some new ideas on what a fraternity man should be and toward what the fraternity should strive. He also had been at the installation a decade ago.

Theta Chi Swimmers Bring Many Honors To Their Respective Schools This Season

WITH the close of the 1931 swimming season, many Theta Chi varsity tankmen, from a dozen or more schools, packed away their faded trunks. One of them had shattered two records, in the 440-yard swim and the 220-yard swim; another was a member of a medley relay team that broke the relay mark; and a third helped his mates on the relay team equal a long-established record.

Two Among National Champions

National Collegiate Champions is the title won by the University of Michigan 1931 varsity swimming team, in addition to the title Western Conference Champions. Two Theta Chis are members of that team, and true to the Alpha Gamma traditions they have been vital factors in winning honors for Michigan this season. Frederick Fenske was winner of the 50-yard dash Western Conference championship and also was fifth in fancy high board diving at the national meet. Robert Klintworth was fourth in the conference 100-yard dash and a member of the winning relay team which set a new conference record. In the national meet this relay team was second. Both men will be eligible next year for continued success.

Most Outstanding Performer

Most outstanding, perhaps of Theta Chi's aquatic sons this year, was Paul B. King, Jr., Delta, '32, of Lake Placid, N. Y., who swam in the 440 and 220 yard events for Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute during the entire season, suffering only one defeat, that at the hands of Ives, Cornell star.

It was Paul's third year on the squad, the second year he has received a varsity letter. He has broken the record for the 440-yard dash in the F. F. Colleges — R. P. I., Union, Williams, Worcester Polytechnic, Amherst, and Wesleyan, with his best time, four minutes, 41.3 seconds. He also holds the 220-yard record at Rensselaer. Perhaps the greatest tribute to his work during the season may be voiced by the mentor of the R. P. I. team, Paul S. Graham. He said: "King is one of the most consistent and hardworking men I have ever had."

King's work is especially outstanding since it came during a bleak season for R. P. I., the season ending with three defeats and three victories.

Helps Equal Pool Record

Lionel M. Sutherland, Alpha Chi, '31, starred for the Orange of Syracuse University throughout the season. In almost every press notice of Syracuse natators' clashes with rivals, his name is prominent. This season was Sutherland's third with the Syracuse team, and he cinched his third varsity letter.

In a furiously contested meet with the College of the City of New York, he scored eight points. He has been a member of the relay team for three years and was the lead-off man this year. The team equalled the pool record of one minute, 39 2-5 seconds in 1929.

In the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming Association meets this year, Sutherland scored 26 points. His outstanding performances of the year were 25 2-5 seconds for the 50-yard event and 58 1-5 seconds in the 100-yard swim. His home is at Morrisville, Pennsylvania. His was another bright record to mark an exceedingly dull season, for Syracuse only managed to defeat Colgate 50-21 and lost all meets in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming Association.

Is Colgate's High Scorer

An interesting feature of Sutherland's record is that in the meet with Colgate, which Syracuse won, he competed against another outstanding Theta Chi water star, Lester C. Lockwood, Iota, '32, who swam in the 100-yard, 50-yard and relay events for Colgate, in his third year on the Colgate varsity.

During the past season, Lockwood scored five first places, five second places, and was on the winning relay five times. He held the high score for the year at Colgate, with fifty points, and the high score for two dual meets. His best performance in the 100-yard swim was 57 seconds and in the 50-yard event 25-1 seconds.

He was a member of the winning relay at the E. C. A. Championships at the College of the City of New York and took third place in the 100-yard dash. He is six feet two inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. His home is Richmond Hill, New York.

Holcombe Captains Worcester

Worcester Polytechnic Institute claimed its most successful swimming season this year, with its stellar natators captained by a Theta Chi, Raymond D. Holcombe, Epsilon, '31, on the team for his fourth consecutive year and winning his letter a similar number of times.

Holcombe placed in dash events in practically every meet, besides swimming lead-off in every relay, the relay team, incidentally, being defeated but once during the season. He was disqualified on a technicality in the N. E. I. A. A. meet, and W. P. I. won only third place, when his participation "would undoubtedly have assured first place," according to press comments.

In the meet with Brown University he took first place in the 40-yard dash and led off in the relay event. The W. P. I. team was defeated by only one N. E. I. A. A. team during the season. Holcombe's home is at Brockton, Massachusetts.

Two Theta Chis starred on the University of Nebraska swimming team, Kenneth Sutherland, '32, and William Walther, '31. The latter swam in the 220 and 100-yard events and scored first place against the Kansas Agricultural College as well as participating in the relay event several times. It was his first year on the squad.

Wins A. A. U. Points

Sutherland won his second letter as a member of the Nebraska swimming varsity. He participated in fancy diving and dash work, scoring two first places and two seconds during the season. He won six points in the midwest A. A. U. competition with a second place in diving and earned a major letter for the season with 27 points.

Richard M. Cukor, '31, and Gilbert Sturt Thatford, '32, shared Theta Chi honors on the Dartmouth College swimming team, with M. H. Cardozo, also of Alpha Theta. Thatford and Cardozo turned in creditable performances in the breast-stroke event, the former scoring 17 points in the Intercollegiate League, and named, with the latter, as "the hardest-working men on the squad," by Coach S. C. Hazleton.

Helps Establish College Mark

Cukor was anchor man on the relay team which set the college record at 1 minute, 40 seconds and later at one minute 39 3-5 seconds. He was also a consistent point winner in the 50-yard free style swim. His home is New York City; he weighs 190 pounds and is six feet one inch tall.

Lorenzo L. True, Alpha Omicron, '32, was outstanding in the 50 and 100-yard dashes for Washington State College, swam third on the relay, and was second high individual point man in intramural swimming. His best time in the 50 yard dash was 25.3 seconds and in the 100-yard dash, one minute. He hails from Spokane, Washington.

Blood Brothers Aid Illinois

Blood brothers upheld Theta Chi honors on the University of Illinois swimming team, with Espey C. Williamson, Rho, '33, understudying his older brother, Joseph C. Williamson, '31. The former swam breast stroke to win his first varsity letter, while Joseph swam the dashes and was forward on the Big Ten champion water polo team for his second varsity letter.

Joseph was the second highest scorer on the Illinois team in addition to being forward on the water polo team which finished a tough schedule without a defeat. Espey

Williamson won seven points in one meet, was a member of the medley relay team, a first substitute on the water polo team, and won the breast-stroke even in the Chicago meet. Both are from Urbana, Illinois.

Two Score Most Points

At the University of Delaware, Carl Lindstrom, Alpha Xi, '33, was recommended for his second varsity letter, for dash and relay work. He scored a total of 59 points for the season, was second high-point man, and was high-point man in two meets. He scored the points that won the meet with William and Mary College, finishing first in the 100 yard dash. His home is at West Chester, Pa.

James Adams, Alpha Xi, '34, was cited as "being as close the backbone of the team" as anyone could be, by the coach, Edward Bard. He was high point man for the year with 63 points, high-point scorer in three meets, and tied the Delaware 50-yard record at 25 seconds flat. The last was considered one of the most unusual feats, especially since Adams is a freshman. His record was the best of any man on a Delaware team in recent years. He was barred from championship competition since he is only a freshman.

Captains Pennsy Team

At the University of Pennsylvania, Carl F. Peterson, '31, of Perth Amboy, N. J., swam the 150 yard breast-stroke event, to win his first letter, although a member of the varsity for three years. He placed in eight of the ten meets for a total of 11 points for the season, competing as a member of the relay team in two of the meets.

Dickson Barnhart completed his four years of service on Pennsylvania's crews in the coveted position of captain.

James E. Turner, Beta, '33, turned in a creditable performance his first year on the Massachusetts Institute of Technology team. He placed in every meet.

Other prominent Theta Chi swimmers include Carl Lindstrom, James Adams, Westchester, Pa., members of the University of Delaware team and Malcolm P. Campbell, '31, who won a manager's letter at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for his fourth year on the managerial staff.

TO MEET THROUGH SUMMER

The Philadelphia Alumni Chapter May 4, elected the following officers for the coming year: president, John Irwin, Omega; vice president, Lester T. Haldeman, Lambda; secretary, Oliver G. Swan, Kappa; treasurer, William S. Goebbles, Omega. Meetings will be held right through the summer, as was the case last year, the first Monday of every month. The Central Y. M. C. A. will be the scene of the June meeting, although it is expected that out-of-town places will be selected for July, August, and September.

Alpha Zeta's Singing Vagabond Soon To Return From His Adventurous Trip Around the World

By ROBERT F. METZDORF, Alpha Zeta, '33

"'HOBIE' Mitchell is coming home!" This is one of the major topics of conversation at the Alpha Zeta chapter house, for "Hobie," or William Hobart Mitchell, as he is formally known, has been away for a long time.

Immediately after his graduation from the University of Rochester in 1929, Brother Mitchell packed his suit-case, shook hands all around, and announced that he was off for a trip around the world. He left Rochester July 8, 1929, and has been gone for almost two years.

The remarkable part of Hobie's decision to see the globe was that his sole assets were grit, a flare for writing, and a good voice. Letters and clippings soon began to trickle back to the brothers, telling of the success in broadcasting with which Rochester's "Singing Vagabond" had met. Altogether, he sang in eighteen radio stations, besides numerous informal meetings. Soon, too, a series of articles preceded by a photograph of a young chap with a wide grin, began to appear semi-weekly in the Rochester Times-Union. These articles told of the places Hobie had seen, the people he had met, his reactions to them, and they have continued to be of great interest throughout his journey.

Theta Chi's "ambassador to the world" headed first for Mexico, and then returned to San Francisco, where it took him four months to find a ship to work his passage to Japan. He finally set sail in January, 1930, and arrived in Japan early in the spring, after touching at Honolulu.

From Japan, Hobie worked and sang his way to China, spending most of his time in Shanghai. Siam was the next stop, and here he succeeded in signing a contract for a series of articles to appear in the Bangkok Daily Mail, one of the largest English newspapers in the East. His were the first feature stories to appear in that publication. After visiting the ruins of Angkor-

Wat, he visited the Dutch East Indies. He has written several friends that this is the most delightful spot of any he has yet come across.

After visiting Sumatra and Bali, Mitchell sailed for Calcutta, which he soon left for Darjeeling and the hill-towns, which section, in his opinion, is "the only part of India worth a damn!" Delhi, Bombay, and Madras completed his Indian itinerary, and then he went to Ceylon, where he stayed for some time in Colombo. He made short excursions into the interior, notably to Kandy. Hobie's method is to leave his suit-case at some central point, such as a consulate or government station, and carry essentials with him in a knap-sack.

In October of last year, Hobie struck Cairo, from where he went to Jerusalem. Athens was his next stop, and then Corfu. He spent Thanksgiving in Albania, and was in Jugo-Slavia at Christmas time. Budapest, Vienna, and Salzburg followed in quick succession; he arrived in Munich in time for the bock-beer season and the other pre-Lenten festivities.

No trip would be complete without a visit to Switzerland, Hobie decided, and he arrived in that country with his resources totaling 32 francs, Swiss. He soon revived his dwindling finances, and made an exciting ski-joint through the country.

It is possible that pictures of Hobie descending the Matterhorn at umpty-ump miles an hour will be included in the next Baedeker.

The Engadine and Northern Italy were next on Hobie's list. He spent some time in Florence, and continued to Rome, where he was held under suspicion by the Fascists until his papers and passport were verified. Naples wound up his Italian sight-seeing, and he continued to the Riviera and Provence. He spent some time in Orange and Avignon, and then went to Paris where he is now. Hobie rates the French as the "grabbiest" (Turn to page 30 please)

Installation of California's Third Chapter Marks End of Theta Chi's Third Quarter of a Century

By WALTER T. BOGART, Beta Alpha, '30

THE frothing churn from the propeller, sweeping out into an endless and ever-widening wake in the clear blue water of the Pacific, with a billowing trail of smoke keeping company above, brought to us the realization, as the California coastline slipped past the stern of the S. S. Harvard, taking us back to San Francisco, that the installation of Beta Alpha at the University of California at Los Angeles, was complete; that the hectic excitement of bringing into being a new member of the family of Theta Chi chapters was over.

Pillars! Red Robes! Queues of initiates! Ceremonies! The Roosevelt Hotel and lunch. More work. Preparation of the charter! Smoke-filled rooms in the evening. Sawyer phoning that Albert Jacobs' plane was on time. Singing. Chapter roll call—thirty chapters represented! McHarrie's stories. Ollie's Jekyll-Hyde. Pretzels and beer. More work the next morning. The ever-present Hollywood movie camera! Afternoon relaxation. Then the banquet! What a climax! Mayfair's Rainbow Isle at its best. Excellent meal. Banners all about. Jacob's speech. More speeches. The tremendous feel of fraternalism! And throughout and above everything, Nick Huntley! These are the thoughts which flitted through our minds.

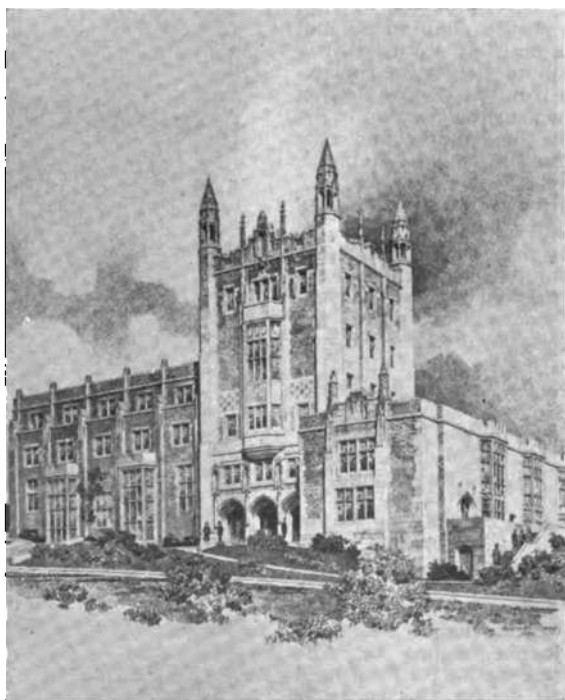

What an event! And crowded with what unusual significances! The marking of the start through the alphabet for a third time, with the ceremony led by a man from Alpha Chapter, whose first initiate, the third man on the roster of Theta Chi, was a Californian; the installation taking place on the Founders' Day closing the third quarter of a century of Theta Chi's life; the establishing of the third chapter in the state of California; the granting of the charter by the only unanimously positive vote in the recent history of the organization—such were the sort of things which set the pitch for the installation of Beta Alpha at U. C. L. A.

It is hard to decide who were the most deeply thrilled and excited. Was it the older brothers who have watched the expansion of Theta Chi proceed and who now saw it represented in a flourishing young university in an equally flourishing young section of our country? Or was it the older members of Delta Mu Sigma, the now extinct local, who had striven so long to realize the ambition of such an affiliation? Or, again, was it the newly initiated brothers of the local who were finding their entrance into national fraternalism marked by this event? It could not be said, for everyone connected with the matter was keyed to the highest degree of emotion.

The pillared entrance and cathedral-like interior of the Hollywood Masonic Temple gave a proper atmospheric start for the event, and the film capital was a fitting location, for its bustling history is punctuated by the same sort of energetic efforts which have marked the growth of Beta Alpha; the same spirit of youthful vigor per-

Founders' hour — thus the first day of the fraternity and the first day of the chapter!

Saturday morning brought the task of initiation—exemplified for the chapter. Peter Gardett as the candidate. Another real thrill in knowing the way which had been travelled by our new brothers of Theta Chi! A very serious feeling of responsibility for the safe-keeping of the sacred things entrusted to us!

The afternoon's breather a really welcome interval for collecting one's thoughts. An opportunity to get back to earth, and a chance to begin to realize that the long hoped-for days had arrived.

No less beautiful than the Roosevelt, the Hotel Mayfair's Rainbow Isle welcomed us in the evening for the banquet arranged, likewise, by the Southern California Alumni Chapter. Another 1000 per cent batting record for them! Nothing missing or wrong! The unique and vades them both. Nick Huntley, in charge of the installation of the chapter he had sponsored — what a man! It required little power of observation to penetrate the extent of his feelings, for they were written all over him. Immeasurable work on his part to bring about the chapter and now the fulfillment of it and his hopes! Helmuth Gardett, Mu, '04, and his son, Warner, Mu, '30, both in installation robes — Warner a former Delta Mu Sigma brother!

And a real luncheon! Small wonder is it that the film stars have elected the Roosevelt Hotel — an inspired hostelry; it could not fail to charm the most fastidious. And the fun and camaraderie as the food was hungrily devoured!

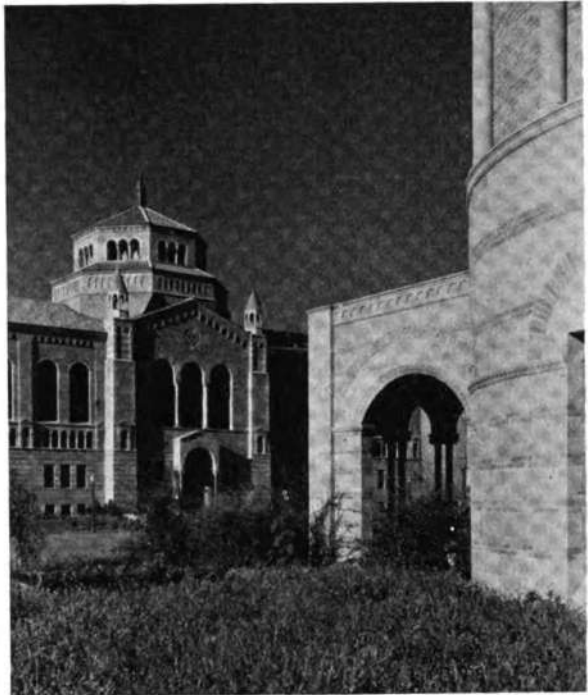

The afternoon session as busy as the morning, and Bob Hoge as ever-present as he had been since his arrival. Weary faces by evening, for the strain of high feeling was telling, and the installation committee had done much.

But no more of that by night! The Southern California Alumni Chapter had given "Tom" Sawyer of Alpha Epsilon the job of putting over the smoker at the chapter house. And did he? Music! Acts! Stories! More music! Congratulations! Stanford, Oregon, and California vying for the huskiest vocal representation! Food and more of everything! Theta Chi corncobs and a great bowl of tobacco! Youngsters tempted to try one! The observation of beautiful lights and furnishings. The reflections from the gold and silver glass floor. The red carnations. The orchestra in the alcove. Chapter banners. And the great flag of Theta Chi over the speakers.

Gage Vaughn as toastmaster! A fitting way to close his years of unstinted work for Delta Mu Sigma. A beautiful means for opening an even longer period of help to Beta Alpha. Splendid speeches! Good music! Dean H. F. Stone's report that Beta Alpha was installed while standing third in the University fraternity scholarship! First among chapters of more than twenty active members! And that the fraternities averaged higher than the general university average! Silent waiters gliding about. A flashlight of the diners. John B. Johnson, oldest Pacific Coast Theta Chi, expressing his feelings! Albert Jacobs representing the Grand Chapter. Jolly groups at the small tables surrounding the equally happy central table. Oldsters, youngsters, all brothers together!

Friendly greeting from Morris R. Ebersole, past president of the Southern California Interfraternity Alumni Association; Edward M. Loftus, Gamma, '14, president of the Southern California Interfraternity Alumni Association; Robert H. Hoge, national executive secretary, Dr. George M. McBride, professor of geography at U. C. L. A. and faculty adviser to Beta Alpha Chapter, C. H. Robinson, the university examiner, Edwin D. "Nick" Huntley, Alpha '07, president Southern California Alumni Chapter, and John R. Thompson, president of Beta Alpha Chapter.

Visitors from other fraternity chapters, happy in U. C. L. A.'s new accession! The close, with the signing of Nick's new album, while we sang "It is To Thee"! And so it was over and we went away, still scarcely able to believe it a fact. Such a long dream. So many hopes and fears. Such hard work in reaching the proper standards. But wasn't it certainly worth all that? And wouldn't it have been worth much more?

Thinking back. To the times when Albert George of Gamma was president of the Southern California Alumni — how he worked and how his enthusiasm never failed! How he whipped us on if we slipped in the harness! To the nights when Mark Harrington helped us get established on the

Lively Banquet Marks New England Conference; National Officers Transact Fraternity Business

ONE HUNDRED alumni and actives of Theta Chi Fraternity representing twenty different chapters enjoyed the New England conference banquet at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston, May 9. Interest centered around the forthcoming convention at Northfield, Vermont, the home of Alpha Chapter, August 27, 28, and 29. Unusually impressive to those present was the program that was outlined by Harry W. Steere, the general chairman of the convention committee.

There were songs and cheers and numerous speeches, all of them of the brief variety, making for lively interest and a merry spirit. William W. Drummey, Beta, '16, was so expert in handling the program that, despite the fact that sixteen speakers participated, the program was concluded in less than one and one-half hours and there was no time when attention waned.

When the chapter roll was called, the representatives present arose and introduced themselves. The numbers follow: Alpha, 12; Beta, 24; Gamma, 11; Delta, 7; Epsilon, 10; Zeta, 6; Eta, 2; Theta, 11; Iota, 4; Kappa, 3; Rho, 2; Alpha Gamma, 3; Alpha Theta, 3; Mu, Pi, Phi, Psi, Alpha Beta, and Alpha Iota, 1 each. Six members of the National Council were present: Frederick W. Ladue, Alfred L. Burton, George Starr Lasher, George V. Catuna, Frank H. Schrenk, and Robert L. Irish, as well as the five trustees of the National Endowment Fund: W. W. Drummey, Carle Bigelow, Maxwell McDowell, Alfred H. Aldridge, and Walter R. Faries.

Meetings of the National Council were held Friday and Saturday, and a meeting of the Board of Trustees on Saturday, a considerable amount of fraternity work being transacted at the various sessions. Estes Park, or some other resort in Colorado, was selected by the National Council for the 1932 convention which will be held September 1, 2, and 3. It was decided to use the term "National Council" for public designation of the executive body which has hitherto been called the Grand Chapter. The designation of the officers had been changed previously to conform with the use of the word "national" instead of "grand."

The following were appointed alumnus advisers for a three-year period for the chapters named: Warren Clifford Whitman, Beta, '15, for Beta; John Alexander Herr, Epsilon, '22, for Epsilon; Robert Rees Sinclair, Iota, '27, for Tau; John Edward Duerr, Psi, '23, for Psi; Edward Gordon Nobel, Jr., Alpha Nu, '24, for Alpha Nu; Roy Hoyt Paynter, Alpha Tau, '22, for Alpha Tau; Edwin Dana Huntley, Alpha, '07, for Beta Alpha.

The revised by-laws for the National Council were adopted. As a result of a request, the name of the Southern California Alumni Chapter was changed to the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter. Convention legislation and nominees for the National Council were reviewed preparatory to the action at the convention in August. The budget prepared by National Treasurer Catuna was adopted. A good deal of time was given to making plans for the convention and considering routine business.

people on earth. Yet they are generous to hitch-hikers, he found, although it took him two and a half days to go 600 miles, due to the light traffic.

After a short stay in Paris, Hobie will go to Germany via Strassburg. After a visit to the university towns he plans a trip to Czecho-Slovakia. He will then go to Hamburg, where he hopes to sign on as a sailor and return to New York.

Hobie was active on the campus and in the fraternity during his undergraduate days. He was a member of the Glee Club, manager of track, manager of dramatics, and a member of the Hellenic Council.

Theta Chi budget plan! To the countless things done by Kenneth Bailey, Arthur Seavey, Oliver Seegelken, Russel Henchman, and Morris Norcop, as well as all the others whom we could name! To the sage business advice given us by Edward Loftus when we thought we must have a building lot at once! These, but a few, a bare summary, of the efforts of the members of the Southern California Alumni Association! What brothers to have found! What a standard they have set us!

Active Delegates to Theta Chi's 75th Convention Are Leaders in Campus and Chapter Activities

FROM far and near many will answer the call of the spirit of a seventy-five-year-old fraternity next August, and make the long trek to the "verdant mountains" of Vermont, birthplace of Theta Chi. And numbered among those who will officially represent chapters of the fraternity at the convention will be the delegates of forty-eight chapters, leaders prominent in the world of the campus as well as in chapter halls.

Most of the active chapter representatives are presidents, many of them outstanding in college affairs. All of them will bring the message of good will from one chapter to another; exchange experiences; compare notes on what has probably been the greatest year in Theta Chi history.

They are listed below. These are the men chosen by their chapters as representative Theta Chis, a select body, worthy of the recognition of every man who attends the greatest convention in the history of the fraternity. The material has been contributed by chapter correspondents.

George C. Vietheer, Alpha, '32, Brooklyn, New York, is prominent in every field of activity at college, ranks high in the military department, and athletics, including football, basketball, and track, one of the mainstays of Norwich's championship basketball team last season, president of the Forum Council, one of eight chosen for Skull and Swords, senior honorary society, was chapter secretary, now president.

Gamma is sending its president, Cedric Loring Arnold, pre-legal student at the University of Maine, excellent basketball player, pitcher on the intramural baseball team, numerals in football.

Epsilon chapter president and delegate is Ellman R. Smith, popular with his fellow students and appreciated for his unselfish work for the fraternity.

David Stafford, Zeta president, is prominent in campus activities, being chairman of the Social Committee, a member of the basketball and baseball squads, and of Senior Skulls.

The president of Eta Chapter, Kenneth Potter, a junior, has the following activities: football (1, 2, 3); baseball (1, 2, 3); interfraternity basketball; member of Junior Prom Committee; sergeant in R. O. T. C.; Polygon.

Paul Ross, '32, Theta's president, transferred from Boston University to the Massachusetts State College when a sophomore. His home is in Waltham, Massachusetts. He has been a member of the Interfraternity Council for the past year and on the cross country team.

Earnest F. Blair, Iota's president, during 1930-1931 was assistant business manager of The Colgate Maroon and was recently elected the advertising manager. He lives at 210 Main street, Sheffield, Pa.

Bruce L. Clark, president of Nu, has been prominent both in Theta Chi and on the campus at historic Hampden-Sydney.

R. H. Griesemer

William L. Groth, Middlebrook, Virginia, representing Omicron Chapter, is popular, and his outstanding executive ability on the campus with his spirit of cooperation has won for him the honor of twice being elected president of his chapter.

Edward Archibald Marks, Jr., president of Xi Chapter is in the fourth of his scheduled six year college-law course, rating Intermediate Honors, an award won by but one out of every fifty students at Virginia. He was connected for three years with the Virginia Players, was business manager of College Topics and circulation manager of the now defunct Spectator. He renounced all activities this year to run The Cellar, college restaurant, which three Virginia Theta Chis have made successful.

Ralph H. Griesemer, '32, in his sophomore year at Pi begun his activities as the librarian, served since that time in various capacities, and last March was chosen president.

Max Schwartz, Sigma's vice president, an electrical engineer, earned his numerals in freshman track and football, and has been active in intramural basketball, swimming, track, and golf.

Tau has chosen Carson F. Sinclair, a transfer from Alpha Eta Chapter, having been graduated from the University of Carolina in 1929; he entered Florida's law school in the fall of the same year, is a member of Phi Delta Phi, and is one of Tau's best students.

Max Hughes, president of Phi Chapter, and John Rooney, alternate, will make the convention trip by motor.

W. Anderson Ramsey, '32, Alpha Beta's newly-elected president and a member of the Interfraternity Council of the University of Pittsburgh, is prominent in campus activities, being a member of the Pitt Glee Club and of Cap and Gown.

John Bailey Isaacs, '31, has been one of Alpha Epsilon's most active members in the last four years, has been very prominent on the campus in journalism and in interfraternity activities, having been president of Sigma Delta Chi, associate editor of the Stanford Daily, a member of the Stanford Year Book editorial board, senior class historian, and a member of the Interfraternity Council. He was chapter vice president this past year, and was recently elected president.

Joseph E. Morrissey, '32, Alpha Zeta's president, is editor of the Campus, news weekly of the University, a track man, and a student of high scholastic rank.

President Haywood Weeks, Swansboro, N. C., Alpha Eta's delegate, in his freshman year played baseball and basketball and has since been boxing and track assistant manager, was a member of the sophomore dance committee, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, Epsilon Phi Delta, and the Order of the Grail, and chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Deputation Team; was secretary of the junior class and has since been elected senior representative on the Student Council. As chapter marshall, he was most active in rushing, getting twenty-two men, for whom he introduced pledge training.

Michael Hart Cardoza, '32, Alpha Theta, is a member of the varsity swimming team, an honors man in history and political science, his major, and has done excellent work for the chapter in the capacities of secretary and rushing chairman.

John A. Brown, chapter president, has been active in athletics for the whole of his college career, being chosen on the varsity wrestling team last fall.

Alpha Kappa's president, Harry Rader Hesse, has been prominent both on the campus and in the chapter, where he served successively as marshall two years, vice president and chairman of the rushing committee, and president for the coming year. His campus activities are as follows: Rifle team, boxing, (3, 4); Monticola, assistant business manager (3); Sphinx; Varsity Club, Interfraternity Council; Phi Alpha Delta; senior representative on the Student Council.

W. Carman Black, '32, an outstanding man both in Alpha Mu Chapter and on the campus, has held several class offices, has been a member of the Interfraternity Council and of the staff of the Iowa Engineer, and has served as chapter treasurer.

Leslie Smith has served Alpha Pi during the past year as secretary, editor of the news letter, and Rattle correspondent; he is a senior in the School of Business Administration, to be graduated next March, and was recently elected a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce.

Clifford Armstrong, Alpha Rho's president, has been active in chapter and campus affairs, having served on various committees on the campus, as treasurer of freshman class, as varsity crew coxswain two years ago, and last year as chapter vice president, assistant rushing chairman, and social chairman.

John Norris Gregg, Alpha Sigma has served on the Emerald business staff for three years, the first two years as advertising solicitor, this year as advertising manager; he is at present a candidate for business manager.

Paul D. Burke, Alpha Tau's president, as a sophomore served the chapter as historian and editor of the chapter publication, and as a junior filled the office of pledge manager. His campus activities include Blue Key and Social Activities Advisory Board.

Elden Peters, junior in the College of Engineering, was vice president for the past year and recently was elected president of Alpha Upsilon Chapter. Among his activities are: Gamma Lambda, honorary band fraternity; R. O. T. C. Band; Fine Arts Band; and student member of American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Albert Fox de Funiak II, Alpha Phi's president, first attended the University of Wisconsin, where he was pledged by Psi, but later came to Alabama, where he has taken an active part in campus activities as well as in the chapter. He has probably done more to bring Theta Chi to the front on the Alabama campus than any other active, this year taking an active part in the Centennial Celebration of the University of Alabama. He was chosen from the entire corps of cadet officers to have complete command of the special company that will demonstrate military tactics as done in 1831, the year of the University's founding. His other activities are: Scabbard and Blade, captain in R. O. T. C., Intramural leader, evidence of which is his recent selection for Michigamua, the most coveted senior honorary society at the University of Michigan. He also succeeds H. Bruce Palmer as business manager of the Gargoyle, humor magazine, as well as chapter president. Palmer was also Michigamua. Patterson was a member of Sphinx, junior honorary.

Steadily the interfraternity conference idea, for so many years confined to annual meetings of the National Interfraternity Conference, is spreading to the various campuses of this country, thus making concrete the ideals of interfraternalism among the undergraduates. Two of these held in the Middle West are characteristic of this development. One at Ohio University, Athens, was confined to the fraternity men of that campus and one at Franklin College was in the nature of a state meet, representatives being present from various Indiana colleges and universities. The conference at Ohio Wesleyan University earlier in the year included all campus Greek-letter organizations, sororities as well as fraternities.

At the second annual Ohio University Interfraternity Council Conference, held in Athens, March 27 and 28, there were present thirteen national officers of the eleven national fraternities represented on that campus, who served as speakers and leaders of group discussions in the two-day session.

The conference opened with an informal banquet Friday evening, Professor George Starr Lasher, Alpha Gamma, '11, national secretary of Theta Chi Fraternity, serving as toastmaster. Speakers were Russel Unkrich, Sigma Pi, president of the local council, Arthur R. Priest, national secretary of Phi Delta Theta, and William L. Sanders, Sigma Chi, dean of men at Ohio Wesleyan. Group meetings Saturday afternoon discussed freshman training, chapter administration and discipline, the tutorial system, the work of the steward, chapter finance, the building fund, and the responsibilities of freshmen.

Similar topics were discussed at Franklin College by eight national officers of as many fraternities. This meeting was the first state interfraternity meeting, delegations from seven different campuses participating. R. M. Blackburn, Alpha Delta, '32, was elected vice president of the Indiana Interfraternity State Council, which was organized. Theta Chi had seven representatives, the Alpha Delta (Purdue) delegation of Ross A. Lockhart, George M. Heller, Arthur R. Miller, R. M. Blackburn, R. B. List, and C. E. Baker being the largest visiting group. Milford E. Clark represented Alpha Iota of Indiana University.

John Adams Norton, '32, Alpha Chi's president, is an honor student in engineering, a member of Tau Beta Pi, and Pi Mu Epsilon.

Donald Hammerlund, Alpha Psi Chapter president, won his letter for the past two years in cross country and has been a member of the track squad for two years. Besides belonging to several clubs, he is a member of Beta Pi Theta and Sigma Delta Pi, honorary fraternities.

Alpha Omega's representative is Irvine A. Turner, '32.

Beta Alpha Chapter will be represented at its first convention by Lewis B. Sims, recently-elected chapter president.

The delegate from Beta this year is Edwin Allen Newcomb, '32, Montclair, N. J., chapter president. He entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology his freshman year, played on the freshman and sophomore football teams, and was a member of the boxing team, of which he is now manager.

"Schenectady, We're Here," Sang Out 150 Theta Chis at Fraternity's Greatest Founders' Day Party

By WILLIARD V. MERRIHUE, Kappa

SIX P. M. at the Mohawk Golf Club, Schenectady, New York, the evening of Saturday, April 11. Zero hour for the New York State-New England Founders' Day banquet, reunion, and pre-convention rally.

For three long months the alumni chapters of Albany, Troy, and Schenectady had labored and looked forward to this. Letter after letter had gone out—no stones seemed left unturned. But human nature is uncertain. It takes real persuasion to coax busy alumni and actives from haunts beyond a fifty-mile radius. How many would come? Just what was there to this "Spirit of Theta Chi"?

A car roared up the landscaped driveway. "Schenectady, we are here!" And out poured as fine an aggregation of actives as you'd want to meet, the advance guard from Alpha Theta at old Dartmouth, who had arrived after a rollicking 160-mile drive. Into the club they dashed, gathered around the piano, and the evening was on.

Another carload. Boys from Zeta at New Hampshire with the glad news that another carload of Zetas was enroute driven by the redoubtable Harry Steere, general chairman of the Norwich Convention, and alumnus adviser of the chapter.

Epsilon of Worcester headed by President Henry Deane breezed in. Welcome indeed. This was Epsilon's first appearance at these reunions. They'll never be absent again, Henry promised.

This distinguished white-haired alumnus, Harry Heaphy, the oldest living Delta member. Earl D. Rhodes, alumnus adviser of Delta, next brings in practically the whole Delta Chapter and a sizzling hot orchestra of eight pieces led by Brother Card. In walks Cecil Finch, our mayor alumnus, and one of Delta's finest.

Down from Glens Falls came Kipp Bosworth of Eta bringing with him Brother McDowell and Doc Wooten. Doc's a Kappa man, so the writer immediately whisked him into a corner to rehearse a few Pennsylvania yells, lest we be disgraced in the roll call of cheers.

Then came the boys from Lambda at Cornell and Alpha Chi at Syracuse. Next, an inspiring sight, fifteen brothers from Theta at Massachusetts State paraded in. We're proud of Theta.

What's this? A familiar figure bars the doorway, a broad, broad grin lighting up his features. Fred Ladue, national president. The evening's already a success. And then, in marched six fine-looking actives in full military uniform — the cadets from Norwich — Alpha's representation at the great reunion. And still they came; by seven o'clock the line reached out into the driveway waiting to register. Finally we were all in the beautiful ballroom with its Old English ceilings, its fireplace, and game heads. Chapter banners lined the walls — one of Delta's many contributions — and an illuminated Theta Chi badge hung high above the speakers' table.

Delta's orchestra set feet to tapping. Then a silence, as Fred McChesney, president of the Schenectady Alumni Chapter, gave a brief but stirring welcome. One hundred fifty Theta Chis, representing twenty-two chapters, sat down. Each brother wore a red carnation as a boutonniere, and a huge red and white carnation floral piece graced the speakers' table.

One chair was vacant — the chair reserved for National Treasurer Catuna.

Forks to the right of us, knives to the left of us (we hope our etiquette is correct), and how we all made use of them. And as we ate, that Delta orchestra put on hot number after hot number.

And then, just as we prepared to assault a delicious filet mignon, in rushes a portly gentleman wreathed with grins. Dad Catuna. A big cheer goes up. Everybody's here. Let the show go on!

The dinner over, President McChesney called the roll. As each chapter in our roll of 48 was called, the representatives got up and gave their school cheer. It was something to have heard. Joseph McCain from Georgia Tech decided, since he was all alone, to "give us something to remember him by" so instead of cheering, he led the crowd in "I'm a rambling wreck from Georgia Tech." We were off on the songs of Theta Chi. You should have heard us sing that "Last Toast."

President McChesney delivered an inspiring talk on behalf of the hosts, and then turned the meeting over to Brother Merrihue. Ralph Horton, alumnus from Albany, and one of the finest concert singers in the state, sang two numbers that were gems of vocal beauty. Up stepped a quartet from Theta with three songs that did them proud. Then Theta produced the highlight of the evening's entertainment, James Klar and his accordion. Well, Jimmy just about stopped the show, and, after the fifth encore, showed his versatility by crooning his music in the most approved Vallee fashion.

Brother Merrihue next became desperately serious and made an appeal for a solid alumni body and a division of the Grand Chapter devoted exclusively to alumni work, pointing to the results of the evening as to what could be expected from a strong, loyal, interested alumni foundation.

Harry Steere then told of the plans for the Great Alpha Pilgrimage, the "convention that can't be missed." He took a poll, and in that poll forty-six men pledged certain attendance and practically all the others present stood up to indicate that they were going to make it, if it was at all possible. Certainly, an inspiring response.

A hush. President Ladue thrilled us for thirty minutes with one of the finest addresses he has ever delivered. It meant more than words could describe to be a Theta Chi after listening to that exposition of fraternity. Up rose George V. Catuna in his finest form — and you know what that means. He chose a lighter vein and kept the gathering in an uproar — yet he would swing us from the height of merriment to the silence of serious reflection in a twinkling.

It was nearly midnight, when Cecil Finch, composer of "Dear Old Theta Chi," sat down before the piano. One hundred fifty Theta Chis stood up, eyes front to the illuminated badge of Theta Chi, and as the strains of the grand old anthem arose, one hundred fifty voices pledged their allegiance in, "May we all uphold the name of dear old Theta Chi."

One of the greatest sectional gatherings in the seventy-five glorious years of Theta Chi was history — history to be remembered until next Founders' Day, plans for which are already under way.

ALUMNI MEET OFTEN

Officers of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter for the following year are: president, Gerald R. Redding; vice president, Wyatt E. May; treasurer, Allen Warne; secretary, Thomas M. Hendricks. Regular monthly meetings have been held at the different brothers' homes in Indianapolis, with an average attendance of twenty. A bridge tournament has aided in securing steady attendance. With pleasant golf weather prevailing, eight to twelve are out every Sunday playing golf together at one of the neighboring country club courses.

Rho, Psi, Alpha Delta, and Alpha Iota Chapters are represented in this alumni group.

Dad Catuna as he walked in the door: "This isn't a Theta Chi reunion. It's a national Elks convention."

"Harry Heaphy, you old war-horse, I haven't seen you for fourteen years."

Two rousing "Cougars" by the lone alumnus from Alpha Omicron, Washington State.

Bob Lockner trying to improvise a Rochester cheer with Brother Keller also from Rochester.

Joe McCain, "Say a kind word for the southern chapters, Dad."

Bob Taylor, in charge of arrangements, "Is there any active who isn't being housed for the night?" How he did work.

The head waiter, "Sorry, sir, but there hian't enough steak, sir, to feed the orchestra." (Note, the orchestra ate — steak).

Several dozen actives, "I got a date, but she has to wait till midnight."

One hundred fifty brothers, in unison, "We'll be back next year with more of the boys. Wouldn't have missed it for the world."

With the names of its members emblazoned forever on the escutcheon of collegiate renown, Theta Chi's class of 1931 leaves behind it a trail of achievement that will set a goal for those who follow to attain.

These seniors through leadership and personal contributions have been influential in maintaining scholarship standards so that Theta Chi Fraternity led all of the larger fraternities last year. At the same time they present concrete evidences of unusual leadership in worthwhile campus activities, the number of men winning athletic, journalistic, dramatic, musical, governing, and managerial distinction being considerably larger than previous years. The number of varsity letters this year was fifty-one greater than last year. Senior members of major musical organizations numbered sixty-seven. Twenty-two Theta Chi seniors served on student government bodies, several occupying the highest posts possible.

Thirty-nine seniors were the recipients of scholastic awards; eight won athletic captaincies; twenty-one held positions as either editors-in-chief or business managers of yearbooks, daily college sheets, and college magazines; there were six glee club leaders, three chairmen of senior and junior proms, one author of a campus musical revue, two senior class presidents, and seven intramural managers.

Alpha Theta at Dartmouth, winner of the Stanford Scholarship Trophy, claims three Phi Beta Kappas, while Mu (California) has two.

Again a survey proves that a considerable percentage of seniors will continue their educational training in graduate and professional schools. Five out of nine Alpha Gamma seniors at Michigan, for instance, will enter professional schools. The number of Theta Chi seniors planning to enter Harvard will make a substantial addition to the fraternity representation on that campus.

It has been an outstanding four years for Theta Chi. These men are the men who have been responsible for the growth of her chapters, for the financial, scholastic, and fraternal advance that has marked the progress of the fraternity during that time.

The accompanying chart gives a brief digest of the activities that have claimed members of the Theta Chi class of 1931. The chart must, of necessity be sketchy. There is neither time nor place to mention the many clubs, societies, and important positions of others than those mentioned. If there were, a truer picture of the prominence of the fraternity on almost half a hundred campuses might be seen.

Where There's a Will

Characteristic of American ingenuity is the variety of ways that college youth earn money with which to pay necessary expenses for their education.

Last summer found Theta Chapter actives in many strange places and doing varied and unusual things to pay for their education. At Block Island, R. I., George Dyar, '33, "smashed" baggage for the New National Hotel in the capacity of head porter and by his side was Robert Fletcher, '32, as assistant. George was janitor at college this year. At the Old Thatcher Place at Yarmouthport on Cape Cod last summer one would have found William Batstone, '32, chapter president, in chauffeur livery. He is waiting tables at the college dining hall this semester. Fred Taylor, '33, was maintenance man at the estate of S. W. Sturgis in Westover, N. H.; Fred is also in the college dining hall now. At Mt. Lakes, Groton, Clyde Swartswelder, '33, was employed in a sign painting establishment; he is also waiting tables now. Paul Ross, '32, peeled onions at The Chanticleer in Nantucket, Mass., as part of his duties as third cook. Carlton Howe, '32, did greenhouse construction work at Norfolk. Dean Asquith, '33, drove a truck for a wholesale grocery. Lawrence Southwick, '33, was maintenance man on the estate of Admiral Ralph Earle, president of Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Townsend Powell, '33, packed fruit at the Powell orchards in Brookfield. William Johnson, '32, is cashier at the college cafeteria. Walter Maclinn, '32, was house man at Hotel Wentworth-by-the-Sea at Portsmouth, N. H.; this year he is waiting table at the college dining hall. Richard Whitcombe, '33, was chauffeur for Mrs. von Arnin, Brookline, Mass. Forest Crawford, '32, was time keeper on construction work at Massachusetts Agricultural College.

Promoting a Dance Helps

James Springfield, Claire Boys, and Gordon Fraser, students at Worcester Tech and members of Epsilon Chapter, promoted a dance in Bellingham when they went home for Thanksgiving vacation, clearing twenty dollars each and winning the prize for money making schemes. Peter Antoncich works three hours a day, polishing floors in an office building. Mott Rieke is assistant cashier in the Associated Students' Supply Store. Caspar Graff, Claire Boys, and Cliff Armstrong are shoe salesmen. Fred Woods is a part-time draftsman at the Boeing Airplane Company's plant.

Reads to Blind Student

Alpha Eta at North Carolina has one member who is earning his way through college in an unusual way. W. H. Maxwell, senior, reads French, Greek, philosophy, and history to blind Lawrence London, of Pittsboro, N. C., who lost his sight in a high school chemistry lab explosion a few years ago, but has been able to overcome his handicap remarkably. He and Maxwell have both been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Of the subjects he is now reading, Maxwell is only taking the Greek, but he finds the reading in the others valuable to himself.

Occupations Are Varied

A good share of Alpha Pi's members at the University of Minnesota are wholly or partially paying their way through school. Keith Myers is with the N. W. Bell Telephone Company; James Niess in his father's office; Gordon Wittich is compounding prescriptions in preparation for a pharmaceutical career; Richard Friberg, is in the radio and furniture business; Leslie Smith, is working in a bank; John Rietan, is in gas and oil business; and Marvin Spittler, is a haberdashery salesman. None of these occupations may be spectacular or unusual, but they all require good hard plugging if scholarship is to be maintained as well.

Cares for Small Boy

Jack Elliot, Alpha Tau freshman, may be listed among those Theta Chis who do unusual work to pay their way through college. Not long ago Professor Victor Whitehouse, Iota, and Mrs. Whitehouse, at Ohio University, adopted a small boy. Elliot, a pre-medical student, was selected to assist in the care of the child.

THE TRAVELER'S TOPICS

By CLAIR FISHELL, Traveling Secretary

The Schenectady, Albany, and Troy Alumni Chapters held a combined Founders' Day Banquet on April eleventh. There were one hundred and forty-six members in attendance representing twenty-two active chapters. That is what we would call a huge affair. It stands on record as Theta Chi's largest Founders' Day gathering.

From all present indications the 75th anniversary convention will be the supreme Theta Chi gathering from every point of view. The convention committee announces that "the price to be collected by the committee will be twenty-five dollars per man, this figure to include rooms and meals and all other incidentals during the convention." We have dreamed of the time we could attend a convention for next to nothing, but we didn't think our dream would come true at such an early date.

After learning that Kappa Chapter (Pennsylvania) established the first chapter endowment fund, it is interesting to read the alumnus adviser's report on that fund: "This fund arises from the initiation fees of the active chapter, and the income is used for student loans to brothers in Kappa Chapter who need financial assistance. A certain percentage of the principal is also used for that purpose. The principal heretofore which has not been used for student loans has been invested in Kappa bonds. In order to keep this account liquid, it is the intention of your alumnus supervisor to diversify investments this year and buy some legal investment which will have a ready market value in case it would be necessary to raise cash for any emergency. The student loans are in good shape, the brothers making reductions and paying interest very promptly. The net worth of this fund is now $2507.80."

Zeta Chapter (New Hampshire) has established such a fund with the alumni accounts receivable that are collected by the alumni board.

For the first semester of this year Alpha Omega Chapter made the highest scholastic average that has ever been made by a national fraternity on the Lafayette campus.

Alpha Chapter (Norwich) has more than its share of activities with seventeen varsity letters and the manager of three of the four varsity sports.

Alpha's ballot box has been used since 1856. It has the signature of Arthur Chase on the side of one of the drawers. After seventy-five years of passing and rejecting members, it is still in use.

Delta Chapter cannot be entered in the national scholastic rating because Rensselaer does not give grades. If a student passes a course, he is given a "P," regardless of excellence attained.

The State recently changed the name of Massachusetts Agricultural College to Massachusetts State College. The administration feels that the change of name will bring increased enrollment. Agricultural students have been in the minority for a number of years.

The Diary Book that most of the chapters are just starting this year has been kept by Epsilon Chapter (Worcester) since 1922.

"Suggestions for the Betterment of Fraternities at the University of Maryland" is the title of the recent report made by a committee of all faculty members of social fraternities on the campus. In their investigation of rushing they found that: "The present rushing system is intolerable. Pledge day comes the first week in November. The rush period extends for about one month. Each fraternity is entitled to two rush functions. This constant rushing for one month lowers the scholarship of the students during the first semester and interferes seriously with the probationary period. . . . In other schools if there is any trend it is toward abolishing rushing entirely or toward rushing early (during the first week or two weeks of college) and pledging promptly. It is recommended that students be pledged on arrival and that rushing be abolished." After seeing all systems of rushing in practice, the Traveler agrees with the findings of this committee. Fraternities should take new members when they want them without the necessity of breaking numerous foolish rules.

At the University of Delaware, four of the last five Interfraternity Council presidents have been Theta Chis.

It is interesting to note that six of our chapters have house mothers. The six are more than satisfied with the favorable results of the system.

WILL PLAY HIS SAXOPHONE WAY AROUND THE WORLD

As a worthy completion to his college career William Hilts, '31, Phi, will journey around the world this fall as a saxophonist in a traveling orchestra composed entirely of North Dakota State College students.

Also included on the orchestra roll is another Phi active, Rudy Hehr, a saxophonist who can readily alternate on the clarinet, banjo, or drums. The orchestra will make the entire journey on board the "S. S. Van Buren," going westward from San Francisco and making a complete circuit of the globe.

Music and football have been outstanding activities in college with Hilts throughout the four years. During his sophomore year on the gridiron he received honorable mention in the all-conference selections, and for the past two years he has been given a deserved right and berth on the North Central all-conference team. Recently he added heavyweight boxing to his record, scoring quick knockouts over both the South Dakota and North Dakota University champions in recent inter-collegiate fight tournaments.

HEADED NATIONAL SOCIETY

John N. McDowell, retiring vice president of Alpha Xi Chapter, was for two years national president of Druids, an honorary society with chapters in colleges and universities all over the United States. He has been an active member of the Student Council at the University of Delaware and a member of the staffs of the Review and the Blue Hen, the two undergraduate publications. He was elected to Phi Kappa Phi this year. His home is in Philadelphia.

J. N. McDowell

McDowell holds a unique place in the Druids, being the only man to serve as national president for two years.
